KELOWNA VOTE FAVORS WATER FLUORIDATION

The City of Kelowna, in the Okanagan district, was the first in B.C. to authorize fluoridation of its water supply. A referendum was passed by a small margin in Thursday's civic vote.

The village of Westview turned down a fluoridation referendum, 381-238.

Slocan City in B.C.'s interior Thursday elected the first Japanese-Canadian to hold municipal office in this province, according to Municipal Affairs Department authorities.

H. Matubayashi was one of three elected to aldermanic seats on the Slocan city council. Two white candidates were defeated.

Flood Waters Swamp 4,500 Irish Farms

5,000 Homeless as Waters Recede
In Dublin; 7 French Trawlers Lost

BREST, France (AP)—Port officials said today six French trawlers carrying 59 men and not reported in more than two weeks must be considered lost. Another trawler with five aboard missing since Sunday was feared lost in Atlantic storms.

DUBLIN, Ireland (UP)—The River Shannon flooded 4,500 farms in the Midlands of Ireland today, and the government said the floods had reached the critical stage there.

Floodwaters were receding in Dublin, which suffered one of its greatest disasters Thursday, but authorities said 5,000 persons still were homeless. The water reached depths of five and six feet in the city.

Heavy rains which brought the rivers Liffey and Tolka to new levels in Dublin ended at nightfall, but more rain, sleet and snow were predicted today.

The River Shannon was still rising, however, and government authorities reported 4,500 farms flooded in the area south of Lough Ree and "numerous" houses swept away.

Telephone lines to the stricken area were out and the government gave Gen. Collins Powell, commanding officer of the Western Command, a "free hand" to organize relief.

VANCOUVER'S CRIME FIGHT

Police to Lay Charges In 3 Bank Robberies

Four Men Under Arrest

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Charges in connection with three of eight bank hold-ups which netted gunmen $64,000 in a reign of terror will be laid against four men, police said today.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four men are under arrest today in what police say is the first major break in the crime wave plaguing Canada's third-largest city.

One of the men was arrested in Los Angeles where, detectives said, he admitted robbing a Bank of Nova Scotia branch here of $3,400, Nov. 8.

The other three were picked up Thursday on city streets and in a downtown hotel room. With them police seized $2,000 in cash.

Arrested in the United States for carrying a gun was Bruce Teetzel, a Canadian. He has lived in the United States for some years.

Police there said he admitted the Bank of Nova Scotia robbery in Vancouver, one of eight bank robberies to take place here in a month.

"I don't think there is much doubt this is our man," said Chief Walter Mulligan. "He has quoted almost verbatim the wording of the note handed to the teller in the holdup."

The note said: "All your bills. Act normal, sound no alarm. Fast now."

MADE 4 PER CENT
Teetzel said he added to his loot by moving to Detroit where he changed the Canadian money into U.S. funds and profited by 4 cents on the dollar.

A warrant is being prepared for him here, and, police chief Walter Mulligan said, a detective will go to Los Angeles to bring him back.

Two of the others arrested, both 39, were suspected in the Dec. 3 holdup of a Royal Bank of Canada branch in outlying Park Royal. Two gunmen in that holdup swept up $7,500, called "Merry Christmas," and made their getaway.

Police said one of the two picked up was a truck driver, the other a tractor operator.

FOUND IN LINE-UP
The fourth man was picked up by uniformed constables who recognized him from a pick-up order. He was identified in a line-up in connection with the Dec. 1 hold-up of the Bank of Montreal in which a lone bandit netted $1,500.

Chief Mulligan, under heavy criticism during the robbery wave, said no charges would be laid for 24 hours.

"This didn't all happen overnight," he said of the arrests. "It is the result of good, patient detective work."

He said he learned from telephone conversations with Los Angeles police that Teetzel said he used part of the money to buy a revolver in Detroit and then travelled to Arizona and wound up in Los Angeles broke.

Teetzel waived extradition.

Arrested on Charge Of Robbery, Violence

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mike Kramer, 24, was arrested here Friday on a charge of robbery with violence. Police said the charge was laid in connection with robbing Lloyd E. Ward, a soldier stationed at Jericho barracks, of $20 here Nov. 16.

Major Hockey Deal

MONTREAL (CP)—Harry Watson of Toronto Maple Leafs and Eddie Litzenberger of Montreal Canadiens go to Chicago Black Hawks in deals completed at a National Hockey League meeting in Toronto, the Canadiens management announced today.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United Nations General Assembly voted 45 to 5 today to demand the release of 11 American airmen jailed by Red China on trumped-up spy charges.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—An overwhelming vote of condemnation against Red China appeared assured today as country after country joined in assailing the Peking regime for jailing 11 American airmen as spies.

The 60-nation General Assembly pressed for a vote later in the day on a resolution backed by the 16 Korean war allies.

Western diplomats predicted the proposal would get at least 45 votes.

Czechoslovakia followed the Soviet lead in insisting that the Chinese Communists had acted correctly and that the case was outside the legal competence of the UN.

... Hail Man Who Led Polls

Thirty-one-year-old Ald. Robert Macmillan, hands held high, topped the poll and was re-elected for another two-year term by city voters Thursday. Picture was taken just after final result was posted at election counting house Thursday night. Other successful

Lampert's Hotel Suite 'Explained'

TORONTO (CP)—The Royal York Hotel suite in which former Mayor Allan Lampert entertained visitors to Toronto, was supplied for his use by the hotel management, Mr. Lampert said today.

George Weale, city clerk, confirmed the statement.

The allegation that "some private party paid for a suite in the Royal York just for my use, is absolutely without foundation," Mr. Lampert said.

Mayor-elect Nathan Phillips said today Mr. Lampert should consider resigning as Toronto transit commissioner if suggestions of over-spending in connection with the suite are borne out.

An examination of the civic accounts by three Toronto reporters Thursday night showed the city paid $47,613 for parties, services and official receptions during the last 2½ years.

Mr. Lampert said that at no time did he entertain at the city's expense in someone else's suite.

"The answer is that it was maintained by me at no cost to the city whatever ... and it's nobody's business, anyway."

Mr. Lampert said the scandal of Suite 1735 will create a strong argument in favor of holding the Grey Cup game in the West next year.

"It will be held in Vancouver next year, where hospitality is never restrained," Mr. Lampert said.

Toronto Girl Escapes Strangler

TORONTO (CP)—Police are investigating the possibility the man who dragged a 17-year-old girl into a laneway Thursday night is the person blamed for strangling two women this fall.

Oary Shlahetko told police a man grabbed her by the throat and took her into the laneway. Her assailant was frightened off when a passer-by shouted.

Liquor Act regulations now deny the right to any person under the age of 21 to act or serve in any cocktail lounge or public house. The congress recommended amendment of the regulations to prohibit the handling of alcoholic beverages by minors in all types of licensed premises.

France Moves Closer To Arms Ratification

Foreign Affairs Committee Backs German Arms Plan; Molotov Lauds Might of Red Arms

PARIS (UP)—The powerful foreign affairs committee of the National Assembly, in a halting step towards final ratification of the Western European Union, today approved the Paris accords rearming Germany by a single vote.

It developed later that an accident provided the margin of victory. One deputy whose proxy vote was cast in favor announced later he would have abstained had he been present.

It was the closest shave yet for the agreement on rearming Germany but politicians still predicted it would pass the whole assembly before Christmas. Five followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle plumped their votes solidly against it in the committee.

(In Bonn, Germany, the West German upper house gave first reading approval to the agreements on Paris rearmament and sovereignty but deferred a vote on the disputed Saar agreement. The vote was 26 to 9 on the two agreements.)

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today "there is no force in the world" strong enough to stop the march of communism.

"If need be, the Soviet Union will demonstrate its might and the righteousness of our cause," he said in a speech broadcast by Moscow radio.

Molotov's fiery words were delivered at a rally in Moscow's Hall of Columns celebrating the 10th anniversary of the French-Soviet friendship treaty.

THREE BRAIN-TEASERS
STUMP CROSSWORDERS

With no winner this week the Times' Crossword Puzzle is building up into a sizeable award as Christmas approaches. Next week's total award will be $100.

Three brain-teasers were responsible for most of the failures in Puzzle No. 89, complete answer to which appears on Page 29 of today's Times.

"Nine" was the correct answer to the clue, "You'd be surprised if a cigarette package a tobaccoist handed you had — in it." Most entries gave the answer as "none."

Kelowna Ratepayers Approve Fluoridation

Royal City Mayor Returned; Trail Elects 3 New Men

(By The Canadian Press)

F. H. Jackson, of New Westminster, Thursday night was re-elected mayor of the lower B.C. mainland city for the third successive term.

His success repeated the Wednesday night trick by Fred Hume of nearby Vancouver.

They were the only mayors of British Columbia of 43 cities who had to go to the polls this year.

In interior Slocan, 48 miles northwest of Nelson in the Kootenays, Robert Warner last week was acclaimed as mayor when his was the only nomination.

Kelowna city and Westview village both held referendums on fluoridation of the water supply. Only Kelowna had reported early today and the close vote in favor was 699 for, 581 against.

Mayor Jackson led 2-1 over his nearest opponent at New Westminster, Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, an alderman in the last council. The mayor received 3,263 votes, Mrs. Wood 1,674, and the third contestant, ex-alderman Thomas Radbourne, 1,156.

Three new faces will appear in the Trail city council following the election of Sam Wiley, Harold Dixon and Norman John Backus.

The only candidate in the smelter city with previous civic office experience was Alan Broom, a Trail-Tadema park commissioner, who was defeated in his first bid for a council seat.

In Nelson, three sitting aldermen were re-elected. Five first-time contenders were all defeated. Voters also elected a school trustee and a police commissioner.

POPE REPORTED IN BEST CONDITION IN 8 DAYS

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius XII was reported in the best condition today since he became gravely ill eight days ago.

Sources close to the Papal household said the Pope spent the most restful night this week Thursday night. His pulse, which had fluctuated, was normal this morning. So was his temperature.

The cough which had caused some high-level concern Thursday had lessened considerably.

These sources said the Pope had no stomach pains or hiccups.

Always a light eater, the Pope now is eating well.

The Pope is reading the newspapers himself. Heretofore they had been read to him.

Saturday May Become Vancouver Polling Day

VANCOUVER (CP)—City council will consider sometime next year whether to change Vancouver's polling day for civic elections from Wednesday to Saturday.

Candidates in Wednesday's election here said they were shocked at the small 32.8 per cent turnout of those eligible and Mayor Fred Hume says a change "is worth considering."

The original idea was to make it convenient for store workers to vote. Now that city stores are open again Wednesday, more people might be able to get to the polls on a Saturday, the mayor said.

TORONTO (BUP)—The Rev. Cecil Swanson, rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church, said today he feels "duty-bound" to remain in Toronto and will not accept appointment as Bishop of Cariboo.

Swanson, 65, said he fully appreciated the honor paid him by the appointment but he felt he still had much work to do at St. Paul's. He came to the Toronto church in February, 1953, after 30 years as dean of Christ Church Cathedral at Vancouver.

He said the decision to turn down the appointment was a difficult one and that he plans to make a full statement to his congregation at St. Paul's at this Sunday's evening service.

Mackenzies Together Again After Two Years

Captured Jet Ace Meets Pretty Spouse in Happy Vancouver Reunion

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Squadron Leader Andrew MacKenzie of Montreal and his pretty, blonde wife, Joyce, met in an emotional reunion Thursday more than two years after the Canadian air ace was shot down and taken prisoner by Chinese Communists.

MacKenzie landed at the International Airport aboard the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Rio de Janeiro" from Tokyo and was met by his wife, air force officials and a swarm of newsmen.

Mrs. MacKenzie, mother of four, rushed to the airline ramp as her tall, handsome husband stepped down from the plane. Wearing a black fur coat and a corsage of roses, she buried her head in his shoulder as the two embraced. Fighting to hold back tears, she was taken into the airport waiting room with her fiercer husband, where the pair kissed and hugged before television cameras.

MacKenzie, a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force who was serving as an exchange pilot with the U.S. Air Force in the Korean war, was released by the Communists at the Hong Kong border Sunday, two years to the day from the time his F-86 Sabre jet fighter was shot said newsmen would be allowed to question him with the understanding he would speak "only on events since his release at Hong Kong."

down over the Yalu River. No one saw a parachute open but repatriated war prisoners revealed later he was alive.

"Naturally I'm happy to be back... I've waited two years for this," MacKenzie said as he sat with his wife in the airport waiting room. "I'll kiss her again for you, fellows. It's a pleasure," he said to newsmen.

The 34-year-old ace, who shot down a Russian-built Mig over Korea to bring his total kills in two wars to 8½, was rushed off with his wife into an air force car less than five minutes after his plane landed.

The pair will stay at the air force station as guests of Wing Cmdr. D. C. MacDonald, and will fly to their home at Strathmore, Que., a Montreal suburb, Saturday.

MacKenzie was given no opportunity to discuss with the press his imprisonment or activities since his release, although air force officials had

There's Excitement Aplenty In Korea Ace's Home Today

STRATHMORE, Que. (CP)—It was small wonder that Jo-Anne MacKenzie stayed in bed a bit longer than usual this morning.

There was a terrific uproar in the MacKenzie cottage Thursday. For one thing, it was Jo-Anne's third birthday, but that was only the beginning.

Jo-Anne also heard her father's voice for the first time since becoming a "big girl." Sqdn. Ldr. Andrew (Andy) MacKenzie, prisoner of the Chinese Reds for two years, had just arrived in Vancouver to receive a joyous welcome from Jo-Anne's mother, Joyce.

Andy MacKenzie said hello to his four children—Bobby, 10, Pauline, 9, Ronnie, 6, and Jo-Anne—over the radio.

Jo-Anne didn't seem entirely convinced that it was her daddy speaking. She was only a few months old when he left his RCAF squadron in England to fight in Korea.

EXCITED AT VOICE
But she squirmed with excitement as he spoke, not forgetting to steal occasional licks from the icing of her birthday cake.

The children chanted "Daddy's coming home" to all who visited the cottage in this community near Montreal.

Their grandmother laid down the law today—Jo-Anne and the others must sleep to be fresh for the arrival of their parents Saturday.

After all, how much excitement can one little girl stand?

McCarthy and Eisenhower

IN THE MOUNTAIN OF SENATOR McCarthy's calumny there is a thin vein of truth. When he says that Mr. Eisenhower has changed his views since the 1952 election, Senator McCarthy is stating a fact—in a distorted fashion, naturally. For the President's views have changed and their change is one of the most important facts in the current world.

When he says that the President is soft on Communism he is merely repeating specifically the slander which he has long preached in general against many honest Americans.

Only two years ago Mr. Eisenhower was elected on a confused platform which called for the "liberation" of Russia's satellites; for a "roll-back" of Communist power; for the "unleashing" of Chiang Kai-shek against the Chinese mainland; for an end of the Truman policy of "containment."

The facts of power soon rubbed off those rough corners of Republican pre-election policy. Because there was no alternative, save the risk of world war, Mr. Eisenhower reverted very quickly to the Truman policy in all essentials. Containment was continued.

Yet for a time the American government maintained the legend that it had a new foreign policy. Mr. Dulles talked of "agonizing reappraisal" and finally terrified his allies by proposing "massive retaliation" at times, and places of "our own choosing." When Mr. Pearson pointedly asked what this meant, and whether the United States proposed to use atomic weapons where and when it alone chose, Mr. Dulles instantly modified his apparent threats.

Then came the crisis of Indo-China last spring and in it the President seemed to find himself after a long period of doubt. Faced by a choice between a great Asiatic war, perhaps a world war, and agreement with the free world at large, he made his decision alone, and against the will of many powerful advisers. He listened to Sir Winston Churchill and embraced the policy of "co-existence."

That is American foreign policy today, the policy accepted by all the great allies, the policy which Senator McCarthy is really attacking. And because he is attacking that policy by attacking the President, Senator McCarthy's latest outburst involves much more than the domestic politics of the United States.

True enough, Senator McCarthy is a discredited politician, condemned by the Senate and eagerly creating a smoke screen to hide his defeat. He represents, in its most violent form, the fundamental split in the Republican party between the President and the old guard who have never accepted his basic views and distrust his liberalism. He and his friends may finally disrupt the party. But for the free world, the important fact identified by Senator McCarthy is that the President, in his own words, has discovered that "there is no alternative to peace."

This does not mean that he is soft on Communism. In his latest statements he has said repeatedly that Communism's long-range policy is the domination of the world, that this threat can be met only by the armed strength of the free. Unlike his extreme Republican critics, however, he is not prepared to invite a war and the consequences which he, as a soldier, knows much better than the Republican civilians.

He is ready to attempt co-existence on a basis of strength, not of weakness; he makes the unity of the free world his first priority; and, in this latest phase, he has largely regained the leadership of his allies after the dangerous strains of last spring.

Therefore, he is attacked by a small minority of Americans, nearly all of them in his own party, and Senator McCarthy evidently seeks the leadership of that minority to disguise his own defeat.

Victoria Likes Independence

VICTORIANS RETURNED INCUMBENTS wherever they had the chance in yesterday's civic balloting, but the results in no way constitute endorsement of current City Hall leadership.

Significantly, youthful Alderman Robert Macmillan headed the polls. He, more than any other council member, has challenged policies of the mayor, specifically on secret meetings and on the handling of the library issue. A somewhat analogous attitude had been taken by former alderman Donald Smith, who found himself so much opposed to the present chief magistrate that he resigned a year ago to contest the mayoralty last December. His announced plan, when he resumes office, is to try to make public business public again.

Alderman Arthur Dowell owes none of his success at the polls to devotion to the present regime. His record of service and sound business judgment is well known in this community.

Alderman-elect Austin Curtis, who signaled his entry into the council field after 14 years as a school trustee, by running second, should give strength to the council where it needs it. He enjoys wide experience in and understanding of school affairs and may be expected to bring an informed and intelligent approach to education issues, particularly the pressing problem of finance.

A Major Milestone

NEWSPAPERS, LIKE HUMAN beings, consider their birthdays important. It is with a very human sense of achievement, and of promise, therefore, that the Vancouver Herald (formerly the News-Herald) has issued a special anniversary edition on its twenty-first birthday.

Many of Canada's top newsmen of today remember the old News-Herald with nostalgia and affection—they worked for it. Like a small community, a small newspaper often must watch its young men and women move on to larger fields and wider opportunities. So it was with the "N-H", whose alumni are now spread across Canada.

Double Talk

THE RUSSIAN SCIENTIST'S claim to have produced a two-headed dog seems to be one for the "uh huh" department. The obvious enquiry is whether such animal experimentation is designed for eventual human application.

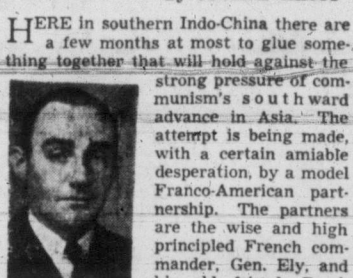

Does the Kremlin have in mind a breed of two-faced negotiators who could be sent to international conferences, or representatives who could give out with a double negative, Nyet, Nyet? Or perhaps a race of loyal communist citizens who could vote twice in Soviet elections, and thus double the 99 per cent majority the Russian balloting system produces?

At that, the Russian with his scalpel may only have been trying for a preview of odd mutations that an overdose of radioactive rays may eventually produce upon the earth. At any rate, if his claim is true, the Soviet has scored another "first." We can only hope that it will also be a "last."

From a Basket of Eels

By JOSEPH ALSOP From Saigon, Viet Nam

Joseph Alsop, Gen. Lawton Collins. Two mer could not work together more closely; and this is just as well, for the odds against Collins and Ely are just about even.

HERE in southern Indo-China there are a few months at most to glue something together that will hold against the strong pressure of communism's southward advance in Asia. The attempt is being made, with a certain amiable desperation, by a model Franco-American partnership. The partners are the wise and high principled French commander, Gen. Ely, and his old friend, President Eisenhower's special envoy, Gen. Lawton Collins. Two mer could not work together more closely; and this is just as well, for the odds against Collins and Ely are just about even.

Two little incidents will help to convey the difficulties of their task. The first concerns a very high French official who was giving a very grand official dinner. The desert was a rich cake. There was a good deal of eyebrow raising when the cake appeared with its top beautifully decorated in pastry cook's curlicues with the word "peace"—the word the Communists have inscribed on their propaganda banners—and made, alas, almost their exclusive property.

All the same, the French official, not wanting to be against peace, said nothing until the same rather specialized decoration was applied in mayonnaise to a cold fish and in cut out truffles to a cold chicken. After the third dinner party with "peace" proclaimed from the platter, the official told his cook to stick to cooking and to leave the conversation to those at the table. The cook was not fired because he was a very good cook.

NOTHING COMIC
The incident is one of the current jokes of Saigon, but what it signifies is anything but comic. The cook, undoubtedly, was one of the millions of Vietnamese here in the south who have gone over or are inclined to go over to the Communists. The penetration is already very deep.

Large areas of the countryside are already in Communist hands, with all real authority lodged in the underground committees and courts of the Vietminh. If this process of Communist penetration is not rapidly halted and reversed, the non-Communist government here in Saigon will soon be nothing but a shadow. All of which in turn gives point to incident number two, which was a visit by this reporter to the brother and chief personal advisor of the head of the present Vietnamese government, President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Mister Nhu, as the President's brother is called by the peculiar Vietnamese name-system, is a slender, immensely polite man who looks as if he came, as in fact he does, from an ancient family of high mandarins. He lives in a way so humble as to be downright astounding in Asia, where the brothers of heads of Government are seldom found in little houses in back alleys. But Mr. Nhu is not really very humble.

The subject of our conversation was the most urgent problem here, the problem of the army. Since the Geneva accords were signed until only a few days ago, this country has been rent in twain and brought close to anarchy by the bitter, open, personal quarrel between President Diem and the vain, clever, ambitious army chief of staff, Gen. Hinh. President Diem was virtually besieged in his palace. He only survived because he was given the most unqualified American support. Since the army is the sole effective instrument of authority in Viet Nam, the army-government quarrel opened the way for enormous Communist gains.

Largely by the efforts of Gen. Ely and Collins, however, Gen. Hinh has now been got out of Saigon and removed from the army command. Thus the opportunity now exists to bind up the old wounds, and begin in earnest the gigantic task of restoring order and halting Communist penetration.

OPPOSITE VIEWS
The only trouble was, Mr. Nhu did not see the thing that way. The army needed to be purged and handed over to the favorites of President Diem. An army, anyway, was for defending frontiers. A new civilian system of administering the countryside had to be created, out of nothing to be sure. There was no great hurry because "the people of Viet Nam are for us."

Such were the themes of Mr. Nhu. The policy he described was certain to renew the old feud with the army with redoubled fury, and so to give the Communists unchallengeable control of south Viet Nam within a few months. But Mr. Nhu continued to insist, with elegant blandness, that his brother President Diem really had a duty to cut off his nose to spite his face.

Being an ardent nationalist under a strong colonial regime does not conduce, unfortunately, to political realism. And besides, having to struggle with those who will not see the plain facts before their eyes, Generals Ely and Collins must also struggle with a quite remarkable collection of special interests, several of them with private armed forces.

The religious sects Cao Dai and Hoa Hao each have armies of 20,000 men or so and exercise feudal power in about seven provinces. The so-called Binh Xuyen have an army of 5,000, own the fantastic gambling and other rackets of Saigon and also run the police. All these and other special interests talk "unity, unity" at the tops of their voices, but also hint loudly that they will fight if their preserves are encroached upon.

From this basket of eels, then, a strong, efficient, forward looking government and administration must be formed to prevent the Communist advance into the key position in south Asia.

Eliza Crossing the Ice

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

AT THE beginning of the late Ernest Weekley's everlastingly wonderful etymological dictionary there is a very good and useful joke. (Etymology deals with the derivation of words. I always confuse it with entomology, which concerns itself with insects. And indeed, the two subjects are confused enough without the similarity of names, for most professors are bugs, especially professors of linguistics and philology and all that, while many insects are wordy and pedantic. The idea of an ant addressing his local PTA makes me all dizzy and faint. My weak spirit fails.)

WHERE were we before I got dizzy? I know... the joke in Weekley, used as a hors d'oeuvre. He got it out of an old number of Punch, but it's still a good joke. A child says "What is that?" and her father says "A cow," and the child says "Why?" Plain fare, but stimulating. And not quite so simple as it seems, either. I was reminded of this joke when I was suddenly asked why we call a clock a clock. Is it because it makes that sort of noise... a distinctly clocking sound? I said no, we call it a clock because a clock means a bell. "Clocca" in Italian, and "cloche" in French, and thus in many languages. And the child gave me a worried look, as if I had suddenly gone off my chump. He felt that if a clock is a bell, then the whole damned world is losing its grip.

HE FELT you might as well say that a man means a fish, or a snack means a drink. So bewildered was the child, so disoriented, you might have been deceived into thinking he was putting on an act. He might have been pretending he had just found out about S. Claus, for the benefit of psychiatrists who believe in fairy tales of another sort. Yet I persuaded myself that his puzzled look, though grotesquely overacted, was based on genuine astonishment rather than on a simple desire to pick a fight (the most usual motive in childhood, and in many grown-ups too). So I wisely kept my mouth shut about the origin of the accordion.

THE origin of the accordion is a dilly, to anyone with a taste for dillies. I would go so far as to call it a lulu of the first water. The button accordion is straightforward enough; it was invented in 1822 by Herr Buschmann of Berlin, and seven years later it was invented all over again by Herr Damian of Vienna. (Inventing things for the second time is a profession you might well consider for your children. Edison did it all the time.) But as for the piano accordion, invented in 1852... oh dear, oh dear, oh dear, I'm afraid I've got bad news and maybe you had better let me get one of the children home from school to be with you when I tell it. Bluntly, the piano accordion was invented by Mr. Button. True, he was a Frenchman and called himself Bouton. But it is the same thing. Quibbling won't help you here. O let me not go mad, sweet heaven... not mad.

ALL EXPLAINED
"You can say what you like about Ot-tawa's idea of how to run a postal service," I began.

"Thank you," said my wife, "I already have. But it was good of you to suggest it."

"You can say what you like," I went on, "but the Post Office does one thing really well."

My wife put down a sheet of stamps that look a lot cheaper than their face value... some of them look like Guatemalan luggage labels and some like items for a children's Rogues' Gallery Album... "stick the rogues in yourself," the children love it, educational and fascinating." She put down two or three parcels, in order to blink better. "Name one," she said.

"Well," I said, "the gum on the customs declarations is really first-rate. It sticks to brown paper. Never saw the like."

"Probably old stock," said this wise if cynical woman.

A few years ago a very old Irish peasant on the island of the Great Blasket, out in the Atlantic, said that all things are getting better except stone-working and poetry. (I may have quoted him to you before. I shall certainly quote him again. I consider his saying worth writing down, both in stone and in poetry.) My wife holds a very different view. In the cheerfulness way in the world, she holds that nearly everything is getting worse, and quite rapidly. I admire them both. I like an old man who refuses to fall into melancholy, and I like a young woman who can laugh and be critical at the same time. An old man with a good word for the present and a young woman with a good word for the past, and both of them cheerful and having fun. Two exceedingly rare types.

THE LITTLE PETS!
I SPOKE impatiently of pedants just now. Yet I have a soft spot in my heart for such woolly little vermin. They make good pets.

I have a soft spot in my heart for all God's woolly little creatures: Pedants, and praters upon Art, And even fashionable preachers.

THANKS FOR A GOOD JOB

Speaking as a citizen it would be an oversight to express appreciation expressed at this time to all those who voluntarily worked so unselfishly and tirelessly on behalf of the Community Chest in Greater Victoria.

The endorsement by the public of Red Feather work in this community is found in the fact that at this point, as I informed, the Chest campaign has reached 95 per cent of its necessary objective of $203,000.

It would be heart-warming, particularly at this season, to believe that citizens want to close the remaining gap of $8,000 before the yuletide so that none of the services of the Chest need be curtailed in their planned activities.

Few announcements at Christmas could bring deeper contentment to our community than word the Chest was "over the top."

ENNObLED THROUGH THE AGES

Victorians with fellow Britons everywhere have rejoiced with a great English gentleman in celebration of his 80th birthday, and wished him many happy returns. We see now more clearly that during the Second World War when none else could assess the future, Churchill of England related momentous issues to the simple recognition of duty and honor; his foresight and fortitude, courage and stout-hearted resolution—"resolute in most extremes"—were beyond compare, a fine exemplar in human consciousness of the eternal elements of a righteous idealism.

Even as America's Abe Lincoln becomes more ennobled through the ages, so the romantic imperialist and knight errant of British politics will grow more majestic in stature in the little island under the North Star he has loved and served so well; his colorful career becomes a bright, broad, in the rich tapestries of our Anglo-Saxon chronicles.

Of Santa and Absolute Honesty

MAYBE I'm mentally, morally and spiritually deficient, but the great debate on the wickedness of the Santa Claus myth leaves me cold.

Like most people, I'm a myth man myself. To me myths are cozy, friendly things. They help to keep a person cheerful. But there's one myth that chills me, leaves me unhappy, uncertain and insecure. That's the myth of absolute honesty.

In my opinion absolute honesty would be the most unkind, humiliating and distressing characteristic conceivable. I don't want to worry about it. I'm convinced it doesn't exist. I'm satisfied that nothing is absolute.

I think Lincoln Steffens did an impressive treatise on that point, and while I don't understand Einstein, I go along with the generality that all things are relative.

Some dogmatists hold that two things are certain: death and taxes. I've been to enough funerals to know the arguments against the former and I've heard enough theories, though I don't necessarily subscribe to them, to create doubts over the latter. "Look," says a government, "we're cutting taxes." And it's all wonderful, except that you find you're paying more.

Probably it's sinful, but most of us take our honesty in moderation. Nothing is more tedious than the man who gives you a factual and detailed review of his health just because you've asked him how he's feeling. You love him more if he just says "Fine, fine."

Who is more uncomfortable to live with than the person, that shining example of integrity, whom friends call "uncompromisingly honest"? I've known a few who have worked out their own philosophy along completely rigid lines. They have achieved the "truth." They behave accordingly. Probably nothing would be more admirable—if we weren't all partly in the position of the blind men and the elephant. What, you ask yourself, makes the positivist so sure he's right?

Perhaps the psychologists would explain that such people have to adopt that attitude because they feel insecure—have to keep whistling through the graveyard of their own doubts.

Of course people have to have principles and adhere to them. But they should allow for some elasticity. And most certainly, they should preserve a little inconsistency. What other justification is there for being human?

That's one of the reasons I think the Santa myth has its place. The argument against it seems to be that if you deceive the child by saying Santa exists, you're teaching him that isn't going to trust you or anyone else once he discovers the deception. That, in turn, is going to implant in him a sense of insecurity. Does an attempt at absolute honesty—impossible in a world of imperfections—create complete trust and a sense of security? If it does, that could be pretty dangerous. The individual who passes through the early years and adolescence into maturity maintaining a complete trust in all about him is due for a hard fall.

Somebody is inevitably going to break the chain of absolute honesty. The trusting soul is going to be hurt, possibly irreparably.

So what's wrong with a little kindly deception on the Santa Claus line? The kids like it. Adults, or most of them, like it in retrospect. And isn't it infinitely preferable, because it's transient, to any propaganda suggesting there is such a thing as absolute honesty?

Now the anti-Santa group can point the finger at you and ask, "So you think it's proper to start trafficking children in the ways of deceit?" To which you say, "No. But sooner or later they're going to find there is deceit in the world. Maybe the Santa myth is as kind as a way as any to break that knowledge to them."

Is Diabetes Curable?

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

As I write, it is Diabetes Week, and devoted men all over the United States are trying to get people interested enough to find out right now if they have diabetes. They tell me that half of the diabetics in this country do not yet know their terrible danger. And it would be so easy to go to a doctor and get the urine tested and to have an estimate made of the amount of sugar in the blood.

Many people ask me if diabetes can be cured. Probably only rarely does it disappear entirely. Diabetes is curable only in the sense that today any diabetic who will behave himself, stick to his diet, and perhaps take insulin, need not die of diabetes. He can live out his three-score years and ten. Many persons wonder if insulin can ever be taken by mouth. For years able physicians worked hard trying to find some way of giving insulin in a spoon but they did not succeed, and I doubt if they ever will. The trouble is that in passing through the stomach, insulin gets digested into chemical fragments which have no medicinal power.

Why should one know it if one has diabetes? Because it is rough on one's arteries, one's kidneys, one's eyes, and other organs to walk around with too much sugar in the blood. One's resistance to infection will be poor, and one may get a crop of bad boils, or one may get terrible itching of the skin. If, with much sugar in the blood, one harks one's skin, one can get gangrene of the leg, and this may lead to an amputation and death. An inflammation of the back of the eye can lead to partial blindness.

MAY WEAKEN HEART

Anyone who is overweight and especially anyone who has diabetic relatives, and anyone who gets very thirsty, urinates too much, and in spite of eating much, loses weight, may well have diabetes. As I have implied, diabetes is no disease to treat with contempt. It can too easily wreck a man's health or kill him. It makes a man much more subject to a heart attack. If I had diabetes I would watch myself every day; sticking to my diet, perhaps taking insulin, and checking my urine for signs of sugar.

I remember an interesting case in which one of my graduate students made a clever diagnosis, and probably saved the life of one of his friends. One Saturday night, as a group of interns were playing penny-ante in their lounge room, my student, before retiring, in pajamas and bare feet, went to the toilet.

From there he called out, "Hey, there are drops of sticky urine here on the floor; one of you fellows must have diabetes." Next morning they all got tested and, sure enough, one of the young doctors had a very severe form of the disease, and had to get busy with insulin.

It is the person like that lad whom the American Diabetes Association (1 East 45th St., New York, 17) is now trying to find in order that his life may be saved.

Anyone who has diabetes or who fears it ought to have one of the books about it written for laymen. Among the best ones are those written by Dr. Joslin, Dr. Wilder, Dr. Pollock and Dr. Krause. The diabetic greatly needs to know about his problems and how to handle them; he must know how to take care of himself, and to watch his urine. If he knows how to live wisely and then does live wisely, he will have little to fear; but, if, occasionally, he cheats, and eats a lot, and then hopes that insulin will save him from his sins, he may soon get into serious trouble with his eyes, his heart, his kidneys, his legs, and his nerves. In some 50 per cent of cases the diabetes is so mild it can be controlled with diet alone. In another 30 per cent the trouble can easily be controlled with small amounts of insulin, and in another 20 per cent, consisting mainly of children and young adults, there is need for both diet and insulin.

FEWER DEATHS, MORE CASES

Doubtless, with time, the number of diabetics in the world is going to increase greatly. In the old days all children and youngsters with severe diabetes soon died, and hence did not have children. Now such children are being kept alive; they are marrying and having children, and many of these children will have diabetes.

The American Diabetes Association is pointing out that diabetics have a good work record, and hence an employer need not discriminate against them. They do not lose any more time from work than do normal persons, and their accident rate is no higher than usual. In years past employers had good reason to fear diabetics because, if one barked his shin and died of gangrene, a "liberal" industrial accident commission took pleasure in sticking the employer's insurance carrier for all of the death benefits.

The American Diabetes Association believes there must be about a million unknown diabetics in the country. Naturally, all of these people are in danger. For instance, a woman who doesn't know she is a borderline diabetic, when pregnant, may lose her baby. If she knew she was a potential diabetic, her physician would watch her more closely; he might give her insulin, and thereby save her baby for her.

Avro Continues Flying Saucer Experiments

TORONTO (RUP)—Aeronautical experts at Avro Canada were reported as busy as ever today on plans for a "flying saucer," although the federal government has lost interest in the project.

Although on a modest scale, Avro sources said, the project is continuing. Key engineers who conceived it have not been reassigned.

The Avro sources emphasized that the project was never intended to prove the flight possibilities of the so-called flying saucer. It just happened that the design Avro eventually produced bore striking resemblance to a saucer.

SOVIET CHURCH DECRIES REARMING OF GERMANY

MOSCOW (UP)—The Russian Orthodox Church today joined the Soviet Union's bitter campaign to scuttle the Western Alliance and the rearmament of Germany.

Izvestia, the official government newspaper, carried a "fervent appeal" signed by Alexis, patriarch of Moscow and all the Russians, and three members of the Holy Synod against the Western plans.

The appeal was addressed to the "religious conscience" of "Christians of all countries of Europe" and asked them to fight for the Soviet-supported Eastern security system against the Western defense system.

Single Adulterous Act Not Sound Enough Reason For Divorce Says Primate

LONDON (Reuters)—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, today opposed the easing of British divorce laws and said the Church of England believes a single act of adultery should no longer be considered sufficient justification for a divorce.

England's chief primate said the Church would "wholly approve" revision of present British law which makes one adulterous act grounds for divorce. He emphasized the Church's desire to restore the "conception of marriage as a life-long obligation."

The proper response to an act of adultery, the archbishop said, is forgiveness on one side and repentance on the other. His comments were made in response to questions submitted by a government commission studying questions of marriage and divorce and are published today in a Church moral welfare booklet.

The Church of England is the established Church but its head made it clear the present divorce law is not ecclesiastically based. "It is not the Church but the law which has selected the grounds for divorce," he said. Adultery and cruelty now are the only grounds for divorce in Britain.

Ottawa Asked To Repeal 15% New Auto Tax

Car Owners 'Taxed Beyond Endurance'

OTTAWA (CP)—The 500,000-member Canadian Automobile Association today appealed to Finance Minister Harris to remove the 15-per-cent excise tax on new automobiles. The tax gives the government about $82,000,000 a year in revenue.

The association, in a brief to Mr. Harris, said car owners are complaining bitterly that they are being taxed beyond endurance.

The association said it is speaking, not only for Canada's auto clubs but indirectly for all of the country's 3,400,000 auto owners.

It argued that heavy federal taxation, through the excise tax and through the $82,600,000 in sales tax levied on auto purchases in 1953, and other charges, was causing a slowdown in auto buying.

PURCHASING POWER OFF

"The loss of national purchasing power because of reduced employment in the motor industry and its feeders is at this moment a danger to Canadian economy," it said.

The association recalled M. Harris made a speech in Montreal last month in which he said sales and excise taxes have an important place in any well-balanced tax system, but that the rates should not get out of line with reasonableness.

"The rates are out of line with reasonableness as far as the automobile is concerned," the association said.

"The posture of your feet is as important as that of your hands. Look at an old snapshot of yourself and note the uncomfortable look of your 'comfortable' stance. Practice sitting and standing in front of a mirror to find your becoming postures."

U.K. PRESS ADVISES DUKE TO 'RELAX MORE'

LONDON (CPI)—The Duke of Edinburgh has been advised by the Daily Mail to "relax more." The newspaper says "recently friends have noticed he looks tired... leaner in the face." They have advised him to let up, but his reply, "it is said, is: 'I have another two years' work ahead. I cannot let up.'"

"For he feels that only by these intensive visits, only by intensive reading of technical books, will he eventually be accepted into our way of life."

Another newspaper, the Evening News, reported recently that the Duke had been advised to take more time off.

Socred Chiefs Flog Critics, Defend Plans

Hansell and Bennett Thunder
Retorts at Party Rally Here

Premier Bennett told one of Victoria's largest non-election-year political rallies Thursday his government is the object of more criticism than any other government in North America.

"I love newspapers," said the premier, "but I don't love the provinces and states, and nowhere else is there such a day-after-day, continuous carping criticism of the government."

More than 600 turned out to hear the premier. Attorney General Robert Bonner, Lands Minister R. E. Sommers, Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi and National Socred president Rev. E. G. Hansell in the Central Junior High School auditorium.

The announced purpose of the meeting was to allow the government to "answer the carping criticism of the political machines." To that Premier Bennett added "and some of the newspapers" which he said were "tools of the old machines."

"When I hear all this continuous criticism, I know we must have a government," said the premier. "But we have no bitterness, because we know the old party machines will never come back again."

He said Social Credit has reduced taxes since taking office in B.C., then added: "We have secured a little additional revenue from our natural resources—and it should come from our natural resources."

GUNDERSON DEFENDED
The premier said Einar Gunderson "who has been made the object of some of this carping criticism" is "one of the greatest financial men we have in this province."

Premier Bennett also reiterated previous statements on debt reduction. We have reduced the net debt from $191,000,000 to $138,000,000 and by 1962 there will be no net debt in B.C. at all, he said.

"Many ask us what is Social Credit? It is a great economic policy of expansion with abundance—genuine free enterprise," he said.

Mr. Sommers said B.C.'s 80-20 deal with Kaiser "is a better deal than the 50-50 bargain Ottawa made with U.S. interests on St. Lawrence River development."

"I have always understated our case on this (the Kaiser deal) so I could not be tripped up," said Mr. Sommers. "I only hope our critics' arguments are based on misinformation," he said.

FAVORS B.C.
"The contract is so lopsided in our favor, we didn't take all costs into account," said Mr. Sommers.

He said there is a large surplus of power in the Kootenays, and that "any industry that comes in will be well provided for, and we are trying to bring them in."

"The U.S., however, needs this power now, and if we don't cooperate with these people, they will devote their talents, and their money to developing other kinds of power than hydro."

Rev. Hansell told the rally Social Credit would have a candidate in every federal riding, "months, and even a year" before the next general election.

"For 20 years we have been hammering away," he said, and "now we are beginning to break through. We are going to give the people of Canada a choice—"

TAKE POLICE OFF METERS SAYS ORR

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A plan by which traffic policemen who check parking meters would be replaced by commissioners so they could be released for an all-out war against crime will be presented to city council next week.

Ald. Bill Orr said he would advocate the commissioner meter-checking plan, which he said was working well in Calgary and Edmonton.

Ald. Anna Sprott assured Orr of her support and said she thinks the idea is "wonderful."

"I can't see that meter checking should be done by a $400 a month policeman, when the same work can be performed by someone for $100 or $150 a month," he said.

17-Year-Old Scout Convicted Of Murdering Woman in Britain

WINCHESTER, Eng. (UP)—A jury convicted 17-year-old Barry Musson today of murdering a 74-year-old woman to cover up his forgeries in Boy Scout achievement tests.

The youth's mother shrieked "Forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do" as the verdict was delivered.

Musson was sentenced to "detainment during Her Majesty's pleasure"—and indefinite sentence that could mean up to life imprisonment.

The boy was charged with stabbing Miss Amy Katherine

Lloyd, local Scout secretary, 29 times with his Scout knife to keep her from revealing that he had obtained two Scout merit badges. He was 16 at the time of the crime last May.

Musson was patrol leader and Queen's Scout, highest Scout rank.

He pleaded innocent, and repudiated a previous confession. He said a police officer forced him to answer questions "the way he wanted me to" by promising him he could go home if he admitted the crime.

Grand Coulee Dam Violates Oregon Pact Says Herridge

ROSSLAND, B.C. (BUP)—A day night that use of the Columbia for bringing logs out of the interior of B.C. was halted "because of the Grand Coulee blockading navigation." "I feel Canada should receive some remuneration because this valuable transportation artery is closed," he said.

The Canadian government had not discussed the matter when the dam was proposed and built by the United States, according to the politician.

He urged the chamber to try to find out why this country did not try to exercise right given her by the international treaty.

Herridge told the Rossland Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

$1 MILLION PAINTING?—The Toronto Telegram says this angel's face, painted on a tablet of white stone, is attributed by experts to Leonardo da Vinci. Da Vinci, believed to have painted the figure between 1481 and 1483, was also painter of the famed Mona Lisa and The Last Supper. This photo, Telegram copyright, was taken in a Toronto bank vault where the painting has been kept for six years. Its owner, Dr. Joseph Glaug, brought it to Canada when he came here as a displaced person in 1948. It may be worth more than $1,000,000. (CP Photo.)

New Japanese Foreign Minister Signed Surrender

TOKYO (UPI)—Mamoru Shigemitsu, signer of the Japanese surrender document, became foreign minister today in Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's cabinet.

Shigemitsu held the foreign ministry portfolio during the Second World War. He also will serve as deputy premier.

Hatoyama's cabinet was formally invested by Emperor Hirohito at the imperial palace at 4 p.m.

At the key economic posts were: Bank of Japan Governor Hishio Ichimada as finance minister; and industrialist Tatsunosuke Takasaki as state minister and director of the economic deliberation board, the nation's overall economic planning agency.

Takasaki, wartime president of the Manchurian Industrial Development Corp., was expected to cool any tiffs between Ichimada and Tanzan Ishibashi, inflation-minded former finance minister in the first Yoshida cabinet in 1946.

Ishibashi was persuaded with difficulty to give up his designs on the finance post, and he accepted the trade ministry instead.

Other members of the cabinet were representatives of the numerous Conservative factions that came together last month to form the Democratic Party on an anti-Yoshida platform.

SHEIK JAFFAR SEEKS JOB NOT WIFE

CAIRO (Reuters)—The millionaire sheik Ezzat Jaffar, who tried to woo ex-queen Narriman of Egypt earlier this year, has been dismissed from his post as chief of the royal cabinet and expelled from the sheikdom of Kuwait for "interfering in state financial matters." It was reported here today.

Jaffar, 38, tall, bearded and handsome sheik dubbed the "bachelor of the year," had received marriage offers from many parts of the world including Canada—since he announced last month that he would not marry Narriman.

Menon Wants Direct U.S. China Dicker

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — V. K. Krishna Menon, India's chief delegate to the United Nations, today suggested direct negotiations between the United States and Communist China as an important step in the settlement of their differences.

The Indian representative, who is one of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's closest advisers on foreign affairs, made this suggestion in an interview prior to his departure for New Delhi.

He was asked what steps could be taken to lower the international temperature resulting from the series of disputes and incidents involving the Americans and the Communist Chinese.

"The first step would be the proper representation of China in the United Nations," he replied. "If there is any complaint against the Chinese (Communists), it would be much better to deal with it here."

"We should relax all the factors that make for international tension."

India was one of the first nations to recognize the communist government of China diplomatically and has argued year after year that it should supplant the nationalist regime of Formosa as China's legal representative in the United Nations.

15 Roadways Improved by Oak Bay Work

Oak Bay works department paved a total of 2.72 miles of road during 1954.

The work was spread over 15 different roads throughout the municipality.

Other local improvements completed were 3.27 miles of sidewalk, 3.65 miles of concrete curbing, 1.39 miles of sewers, .88 miles of storm drains, and 1.02 miles of water mains. Cost to ratepayers was $183,000.

Also completed was 350 feet of concrete retaining wall at Shoal Bay and reconstruction of Beach Drive from St. Patrick Street to Monterey Avenue, including widening for parking.

Works department installed underground wiring and ornamental lamp standards in several sections of the Uplands, and in the Hudson's Bay development, north of Lansdowne Road, poles are being installed off the streets on back-of-property easements.

The olive drab color for army uniforms was adopted in June, 1902.

FOOD NOW UNRATEDIONED; WAGES UP

British Prosperity at Peak Since 1945

By GEORGE ABRAHAMSON

LONDON (CP) — Britain in 1954 achieved its highest level of prosperity since the Second World War. Primary aims were fulfilled. Production expanded and the end of government controls was hastened. Exports were stimulated and capital investment encouraged.

The basis for a further expansion of the economy was laid by the six per cent increase in industrial production, following the increase of five per cent in 1953.

Strikes caused more annoyance than lasting harm. Larger scale strikes, especially in durable goods, but at the same time consumer spending, became more selective. Accordingly, the surplus available for saving was more satisfactory than in previous years.

Decontrol continued. Food rationing ended in July with meat becoming an unrestricted commodity. Licensing of residential buildings ended in November, while a number of commodities — sulphur, tungsten and vegetable oils among them — were restored to private trading.

Exchanges reopened including the Liverpool cotton, London grain futures and London gold — on a restricted basis. The ministries of food and materials disappeared as separate units.

Financially, improvement was officially acknowledged when the government cut the bank rate by one-half per cent to its present rate of 3 per cent. Savings by small income earners increased for the first time in years and industrial firms placed more new capital issues on the market. The chief source of risk capital remained reinvested profits.

EASIER CREDIT

Bank loans increased, while restrictions on consumer credit eased. Minor concessions in the foreign currency field provided larger amounts for travelers and students abroad.

But the government's attitude to convertibility of the pound sterling remained profoundly cautious.

The foreign payments position developed satisfactorily.

In the first half of the year, Britain had earned a current account surplus of $154,000,000 more than for the whole of 1953. By October, the gold and dollar reserves had increased by $149,000,000 to $1,048,000,000.

In the first nine months of the year exports were up by 4.4 per cent to a value of $2,309,000,000. Imports were down by 2 per cent to $2,739,000,000.

The stock market boomed on news of increased production, hopes of tax relief in an election year budget, optimistic disclosures from the U.S. economy, and company profit and dividend records.

By the end of November, government fixed-interest securities showed gains of 6 per cent while ordinary industrial shares, the average, were up nearly 50 per cent.

Wages rose slightly in line with the cost of living.

Outlook for 1955: Confidence tempered with fears of labor shortages in the most active industries, while the main concern still is directed toward paying the country's way abroad.

1c Okay so there must be something wrong with this one... it's a 1954 Dodge Coupe in running condition and it will be sold for 1c to the first man who can get it started and (here comes the catch) who also purchases a used car with a value over $500 from National Motors' main Used Car Lot on Saturday.

THE CANADIAN SOLDIER...THE ARCTIC... AND YOUR FREEDOM

TYPICAL OF MANY CANADIANS is Sergeant Ray Reding of Innisfail, Alta. Sergeant Reding is one of many Canadian Soldiers who have served in our Arctic regions. They tested weapons, equipment and clothing. "It was quite an experience — a little rough at times — but it's all part of our duty. Anyway, I wouldn't have missed the chance for all the world."

From the Atlantic to the Pacific stretches Canada's Northern Frontier — a huge expanse of silent, frozen wasteland.

To explore, to determine its strategic importance, to test men and machines in these northern regions, is vital to our defences — to your freedom in case of attack. The Canadian Army has for years been actively engaged in this work. The courage and willingness of Canada's soldiers to face the extreme cold — to go through the rugged tests of manoeuvres — hard on men and machines — has brought about greater knowledge and a greater measure of safety for all Canadians.

Army life offers the challenges of this kind of service. It demands good men — physically fit and intelligent. It offers thorough training and many opportunities for advancement. The Army is a career that combines the opportunity for adventure with the financial security of good pay and pension. It is an opportunity to serve the well-being of Canada as well as your own future.

GOP Leaders All Like Eisenhower Check Indicates

McCarthy's Attack
Hurting Joe Alone

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican national chairman Leonard W. Hall said Thursday a nation-wide check of party leaders showed President Eisenhower will get "even greater" GOP support in the new congress despite Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's attack.

Hall made the statement as Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R., S.D.), one of McCarthy's closest Senate associates, disclosed details of the circumstances under which the Wisconsin Republican accused Mr. Eisenhower of a "shrinking show of weakness" toward Communism.

Mundt said he tried to dissuade McCarthy from issuing the statement and refused to read it for him at a meeting of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee. He said he told McCarthy "nobody's going to buy the idea that Eisenhower is soft on Communism."

WHY HE SPOKE

But Mundt said McCarthy replied that he had to "say something" because "they're shooting at me" from the White House.

Mr. Eisenhower at a news conference Wednesday referred to Hall's question about the impact on the GOP of McCarthy's blast and the possibility that the Wisconsin Republican and his followers might form a new party.

Hall said he delayed his answer 24 hours to check "key Republican leaders around the country and take a representative sample of Senate and House opinion." He said GOP congressmen "almost uniformly" took the president's side and his survey showed other GOP bigwigs felt the same.

"It is noteworthy that they almost uniformly went to the support of President Eisenhower, even though they took differing positions on the McCarthy issue in the recent Senate proceedings," Hall said.

He did not identify the party leaders with whom he checked.

GREATER UNITY

Hall said his survey convinced him the President "will find even greater unity and support among Republican members of both the Senate and House during the next two years." He predicted the vast majority of Americans, both Republicans and Democrats, will give "even greater" support to Mr. Eisenhower's program.

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R., Utah), chairman of the special committee which recommended censure of McCarthy, scoffed at the idea that any Republicans, except perhaps the "lunatic fringe," would bolt the GOP to form a new party.

Sen. John Marshall Butler (R., Md.), who like Mundt, voted against censure of McCarthy, also sided with Mr. Eisenhower. Butler said McCarthy's attack was "most unfortunate and uncalled for."

Mundt told reporters his exchange with McCarthy occurred as the two men sat side-by-side at a hearing of McCarthy's Senate investigating subcommittee at which Mundt was temporarily presiding.

By BILL WALKER

An international golf exhibition series will be held in Victoria next summer, if present plans materialize and there seems little doubt that they will.

Planning a British Columbia tour next June are the 16 top amateur golfers of Hawaii. According to the pitch now being studied by the Victoria and District Golf Committee, the Hawaiian stars want to play as many matches as possible in the province during their visit.

Victoria plans to accommodate this desire and the Hawaiian officials are being contacted regarding further particulars. If the matches are finalized here, the top 16 city golfers will be selected to compete against the tourists. Colwood Golf Club is bidding for the event.

Plagiarism on the links, or as Vancouver's Pat Slattery says, the fellow behind B.C.'s $15,000 Open, scheduled next year on the Mainland, is so confident of the success of the venture that he predicts a minimum of 15,000 customers at the event.

On Our Side

You may have noticed the item, and perhaps not. But B.C. should get a hearing in the future now that Chuck Congdon of Tacoma has been named one of the vice-presidents of the Professional Golfers' Association.

The Hopkins Trophy matches, played in Canada for the past three years, and originated by John Jay Hopkins, an international industrialist, will get a change in venue next year. They are scheduled for the La Jolla Club of San Diego, Jan. 18 and 19 and will precede the Conval-San Diego $15,000 Open.

Vancouver's Stan Leonard, the Canadian PGA champion, will skipper the Canadian squad. The other seven are to be named later and can't help but include the former Victorian and present Canadian Open champion, Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon. Selection of four members to the team is based on points scored in the Canadian Open, the Canadian PGA and the LaBatt $25,000 Open. The three other members will be named at the discretion of the committee.

Ed Furgol and Chick Harbert will be the first invited to the U.S. team. Furgol being the U.S. Open champ and Harbert the PGA king.

Medals at Stake

Locally, the first half of the monthly medal series ends this Sunday at Victoria Club with Bob Fleming holding a one-stroke edge over veteran Jim Robertson of Colwood as the field of 29 heads into the home stretch. Fleming's total is 141 to Robertson's 142. The only other fellow within striking distance is Dr. George Bigelow with 147, and the good doctor may give the leaders a wrestle on his home course.

Next to try for the buttons from holders Bob Morrison and Frank Sorogers, will be a youthful pair from Gorge Vale, Bob Herberston and Norm Boden.

These youngsters will each throw a three handicap at their foes, Boden being the best known probably as he was runner-up to the Gorge Vale crown won by Pudge Panthorpe last year.

History Note

Speaking of carts — you know those electric whizz buggies that some people use to speed about the course? Well, it seems the original design wasn't for golf at all, but a handy-andy gadget a fellow whipped together as a do-it-yourself project, so that he and his wife, who was partially crippled, could get around by themselves. A golf addict saw it, and presto! The golf scooter was born.

There hasn't been any rush on the courses this past week, or the past month for that matter, but somehow the result of the junior button golf match got sidetracked. The winners were Bob Brousseau and Michael Kolb of Colwood; the losers, Norm Boden and Mel Carlow of the Gorge. The score was 1 up. The Bryant Trophy at Colwood went to Vic Painter and Cam Jamieson over George Andrews and Stan Evans, 5 and 4, and the winners will be honored along with other Colwood champions at the seasonal Windup and prize presentation at the clubhouse Saturday.

It used to be the rule that as long as the Cougars were going well, golf was a leisure that could be enjoyed. One of the most ardent of this year's Cougar divot brigade is goalie Marcel Pelletier, who can belt the pellet a mile, but, unfortunately, not always in a straight line.

International Incident at Wembley

European relations were a little strained in this "friendly" soccer match in London's famous Wembley Stadium recently. Roy Bentley, England's inside right, crashed heavily with Germany's left half

Gerde Harpers during an English assault on the German goal. Played before a record Wembley attendance of 100,000, the match saw England take a 3-1 victory. (Mirrorpic.)

Bannister Almost Retired

LONDON (CP)—Rangy Roger Bannister is trading in track suit for a surgeon's scrubs—probably for good.

The phenomenal British athlete made it official Thursday night. Regrettably, he said he doesn't think he'll be able to go on taking medicine—and racing—as a double dose.

"I don't think I shall be able to continue in international competition," said the first of the four-minute millers, disclosing that he is about to take up a resident appointment at St. Mary's in London's Paddington district.

Dr. Bannister made his announcement—"a sad piece of news"—at a sportswriters' dinner in London. He said he had found it "increasingly difficult" to combine the strenuous life of a track star with the even more demanding schedule of a budding surgeon.

The tall, fair-haired Oxford graduate, who seven years ago was more interested in rowing than running, thus closed the book on an athletic career that may not be equalled for a long time.

Tributes to Bannister's stature as an athlete flowed freely Thursday night at the annual dinner of the British Sports writers' Association.

Boxing Canceled

Tonight's scheduled Greater Victoria Amateur Boxing Association card at Victoria Ballroom has been canceled.

Difficulties in arranging proper matches for local fighters was the cause of the cancellation.

Association officials have announced that all tickets purchased for tonight's matches will be honored when the next card is held, some time in January.

Soccer Leaders Face Serious Opposition

Victoria and District Football League leaders, Meaney's of the First Division, and Duncan Native Sons of the Second Division, will meet tough opposition this weekend in their efforts to retain their places of honor.

Winning nine and tying one out of 12 matches, Meaney's will go against runner-up Esquimalt in a First Division match Sunday at Central Park.

Although Dockers trail the Cartagamen by six points, the Esquimalt club has two games in hand on the leaders.

JBAA and Victoria West, falling far short of higher league positions, will battle it out Saturday at Heywood Avenue Park.

Royals Grab Portion Of Western Ice Lead

New Westminster 5, Saskatoon 5

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—New Westminster Royals are in a tie spot with the first-place Calgary Stampede in the Western Hockey League today, but the coveted top spot stood to become a three-way tie or the sole possession of Calgary in tonight's games.

Royals, who battled to a 5-5 draw with Saskatoon here Thursday, used the single point to pull themselves even with the Stampede, riding the top since Tuesday.

Edmonton travels to the corral for a clash with Stamps tonight. A Flyer win would split first place three ways, while a victory for Calgary would put them out in front by two important points.

Last-place Saskatoon, with some man-sized wins behind them, will meet the staggering Vancouver Canucks, currently heading for the all-time winless record of 14 games, owned by the 1949-50 Victoria Cougars.

Quaker marksmen were sparked by Eddie Kobussen with two goals, Jim Ross, Jack McLeod and Doug Bentley drove in the remaining Saskatoon markers.

On the other side of the ledger, Max McNab and Blinky Boyce led with a goal and an assist each, Mates Ollie Dorohoy, Bob Bergeron and Gordon Fashway each scored one.

Minor Soccer

Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association schedule for this weekend follows:

SATURDAY
1 p.m.—Division V: Combines vs. Eagles, Central Park; Division IV: Combines vs. Seattle, Langford Park; Division III: Eagles vs. Seattle, Victoria West Park.
2 p.m.—Division IV: Sidney vs. Eagles, Sidney.
SUNDAY

2 p.m.—Division I: Fifth Regiment vs. Belmont, Victoria West Park; Division II: AN & AP vs. Eagles, Langford Park.
2:30 p.m.—Division I: Eagles vs. Mic Mac, Windsor Park.

St. Louis	14	12	24
Chicago	14	10	24
Philadelphia	14	10	24

Second Division activity will highlight a game between the first-place Native Sons and Canadian Scottish, Sunday, at Lower Beacon Hill.

The Scots, down six points from the top, are presently holding the fourth position, but have lost only one game in nine starts this season and hold two games in hand over the leaders.

Following behind Duncan by two points, Butlers Aces will meet Punjab United at Reynolds Road and Dutch Wanderers clash with Combines at Bullen Park in other Sunday games while Tillucums meet Wood Motors at Lower Beacon Hill Saturday.

All games will start at 2.

MOVES TO CENTRE AGAINST ROYALS SATURDAY

George Answer to City Prayers?

Although they have been somewhat weakened by the injury to fullback Bill Hope, officials of the Victoria City soccer club believe they have finally found the solution to the centre-forward problem that has plagued them enough most of the season.

Normally an inside, George Wright, the stocky Esquimalt ex-High School star, has been worked into the all-important pivot position and director Don Wakelyn hails the experiment as "the find of the year."

"George doesn't check too well but he is a strong shot and a marvelous passer," says Wakelyn. "He's going to develop into a first-class centre-forward."

Wright will be pivoting the predominantly young forward line Saturday when City takes on New Westminster in a game that is the key to their first-half championship hopes.

A win would move City into a second-place tie and give them a chance of taking first place by winning the two games in hand they hold over first-place Firefighters and Royals.

Pete Winter will be in goal and forward

Tonight's TV Bout

NEW YORK (UP)—Handsome Vince Martinez, who says he spurned a $25,000 bribe offer when he won his last fight, is favored at 11-5 to whip speedy Al Andrews tonight in their 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Martinez, knockout specialist from Paterson, N.J., goes into the nationally televised and broadcast bout with the ranking of fifth contender in the welterweight division and a 12-bout winning streak.

'Ridiculous'

NEW YORK (AP)—Max Schmeling, one-time world heavyweight boxing champion, Thursday night called ridiculous a magazine story that he had won a fixed fight from Harry Thomas in New York Dec. 14, 1937.

The charge was made in Sports Illustrated by Thomas, who also said that James D. Norris Jr., now president of the International Boxing Club, and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager, had conspired to fix the fight.

'Coach of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Red Sanders of unbeaten UCLA, Pacific coast conference football champions, was named "coach of the year" today in the annual poll of the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Smythe Comments TV

TORONTO (CP)—Conny Smythe, who built Toronto Maple Leafs into a profitable National Hockey League attraction, says there is no better medium for sports than television.

He said Thursday night that his sport event not good enough to go on TV should not be sold to the public.

Changes Mind

LONDON (CP)—Jimmy Jackson, 23-year-old soccer player back from Toronto, will turn out again with the Notts County team on Saturday.

Jackson left for Canada two years ago after a disagreement with the Second Division team. He returned to spend Christmas with his parents at Nottingham and was talked into rejoining the club.

McFater Wins

LONDON (UP)—Allan McFater, Toronto lightweight making a comeback after a two-year retirement, counted victory No. 2 today as he moved further along the road leading to a crack at Jimmy Carter's world title.

In the first professional boxing match staged here in two years, McFater Thursday night scored a decision over Wesley Lowry of Saginaw, Mich., in a 10-round main event before 1,000 fans.

Obeck in, Hayman Out As Alouette Manager

MONTREAL (UP)—Vic Obeck today announced his resignation as McGill University athletic director, effective next June, and said he would become an active shareholder and vice-president of the Alouettes professional football club.

Obeck said at a press conference that he and Mark (Ted) Workman, wealthy young co-owner of the club, would share the duties of general manager, formerly handled by Lew Hayman who resigned Thursday.

He said coach Douglas "Pea-head" Walker, who led the club to the eastern football championship this fall, would return to Montreal "in a couple of days" to sign a new contract. He said the agreement would be "longer than one year."

Hayman, who said he had no other plans to work elsewhere, appeared to be out of a job—at least for the time being. A spokesman for at least one other team in the Big Four football union, general manager Jim McCaffrey of the Ottawa Roughriders, said "We wouldn't even consider him" if he applied for a coaching job to replace Clem Crowe.

Rival Pro Promoters Expected to Bid High

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—A giant tug of war between rival professional tennis promoters Jack Kramer and John Brennan was seen shaping up today for the services of many of the sport's leading amateurs.

Lacking one dominant figure with gate appeal to carry a new tour, both promoters are interested in a plan for a world-wide road show, which would be a sort of a Harlem Globetrotters of tennis courts with eight or so playing tournaments in world capitals.

Brennan, who is promoting the Frank Sedgman-Pancho Gonzales tour in Australia, apparently tipped his hand when he warned Kramer, coming to Australia with a valise of greenbacks to lure top Davis Cup stars of both Australia and America.

It developed today that Brennan has been making his own overtures. He has reached the United States' Tony Trabert and set a conference for later this month in Sydney.

And Lew Hoad's father, Alan Hoad, disclosed in Sydney that his son has been offered approximately $25,000, but said the offer didn't come from Kramer.

INTEREST STIRRED

Talk of big money stirred the interest of the young amateurs from both countries.

Hoad's father said his son would want $67,700 to accept a pro offer.

Hoad himself said: "I would have to consider any offer Kramer made but it would have to be solid."

Ken Rosewall, Australia's other young ace, said: "I may not remain an amateur all my life but the decision whether I turn pro would depend whether I am approached and how much I am offered."

Trabert said he would be interested in turning pro only when he felt he had measured up to it, which was not now, and added: "I am a very good friend and have the utmost respect for Jack Kramer. I would definitely talk with him before making up my mind."

Both Trabert and Seixas said they have not been made any offers.

ORPHANS PLAY SATURDAY

Ex-Alberni Stars To Meet Old Mates

Alberni Athletics will be the victims of a bit of high-treason Saturday night when they meet Howard Tooby's Victoria Orphans in an intercity Senior A night's featured game will be men's basketball clash at Oak Bay Junior High School gym at 8.30.

On the Orphan's line-up will be two of the best players developed in the Alberni district—Don "Twitter" Hill and Dave Williamson.

Both players are attending school in Victoria and have hooked up with Tooby's club.

Hill and Williamson were developed through Alberni's productive high school basketball program and both were chosen to the Vancouver Island high school all-star team for two years.

In addition, Hill was named the top high school player on the island in the annual Vancouver Island prep tournament four years ago.

After graduation, both played in the Victoria Orphans.

ONE QUALITY—THE BEST

On The OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

Are you prepared to put up with frost-bitten hands, numb, soggy feet and bones that feel as if they were left in the fridge over night? Will you endure this for some of the most glorious sport the outdoor world has to offer?

If you nodded your head in affirmation, you're ready for the steelhead season that is almost upon us.

The steelheader probably represents the Spartan of fresh water fishermen. Because of the season, the prevailing water conditions and favored terrain, he has to go through more than just hell and high water. Before daylight, he may drive 40 miles and then hike another 10 through woods, over rocks and down the walls of a canyon to his favorite steelhead hole. If he doesn't find 10 others there before him, he will start fishing and it might be cold enough so that he has to wear the ice off his rod tip between casts.

Life may hook a fish on his Cherry Bobber, watch the line melt off his spinning reel and be forced to take off down the bank. After hurdlings rocks, sloshing hip-high in icy water and exerting at least one year off his life, chances are he'll lose the fish and a couple of bucks worth of tackle.

But he won't be discouraged—he expects such things. May be next week will be one of those a-strike-every-cast days. Vancouver Island is blessed with some wonderful rivers for these sea-going rainbows. From all appearances, most of them should start producing around Christmas or New Year's.

Already, fish have been taken in the always dependable San Juan River, the mouth of the Sooke and the Chemainus. We haven't had any reports from up-island rivers yet but they should be ready.

But one word of caution. Winter streams, high and with churning, icy water, can't be treated the same way as they are when they are knee-deep summertime trickles.

Earlier this week, we spoke about things we'd like to find under the Christmas tree.

Here's something we don't want to see under our tree, ever. This is an advertisement lauding the New Automatic Shur-Hooker Fisherman.

Contrived of a vise, clamps, steel springs, triggered arms, slots and steel appendages, here is an invention that allows you to fish while taking a siesta.

The ad says, "Here's a real pal for you... Install one... then walk away, go to sleep. Do anything you want. The moment the fish bites— presto."

"Your automatic fisherman goes to work for you lightning fast. His trigger releases! Hook sets in mouth of fish! Up comes catching arm! Like magic your fish is caught!"

An entire page in a popular magazine was devoted to the above tripe.

I may be getting feeble in my old age but I'm darned if I will let any conglomeration of springs and steel arms catch my fish for me. Santa Claus, stay away from my chimney if this is all you have.

Sharpshooters will be firing for the pot again this week-end with two more big turkey shoots billed.

Jack Gurton of the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club announces club members will hold their annual Turkey shoot Sunday at the Beacon Avenue club grounds in Sidney.

Traps will be opened to shooters at 10 a.m. and all the birds are guaranteed to weigh a plump 20 pounds.

The second bird shoot of the day will be at the Happy Valley grounds of the South Vancouver Island Rangers. They will be running off the second of two legs on the trap ranges, also starting at 10.

Both shoots are open to the public.

Russians Can Play At Wimbledon, But...

LONDON (UP)—Co-existence between the east and the west spread to the tennis court today when it was announced that Russians will be permitted to play in the future tournaments at Wimbledon if they obey the rules.

Lord Templeton, president of Britain's Lawn Tennis Association, conceded that the Russian outlook on sport was "very different from ours," and if they enter future Wimbledon championships their arrival "must not result in any alterations or lowering of our own standards of amateur and friendly sportsmanship."

Speaking at the LTA's annual meeting yesterday, Lord Templeton outlined two rules that must be met before the Russians can perform on Wimbledon's famed courts. They must become members of the International Lawn Tennis Federation and also agree not to use tennis for propaganda purposes.

Lord Templeton pointed out that the Soviet habit of "regarding athletic victories as evidence of national superiority" might have a bad effect on the traditional British habit of being a jolly good loser.

"National prestige is made up of many more ingredients than sport," he said, "and it is nothing more than unscrupulous propaganda to suggest that victory or defeat in a game is evidence of a country's vigor or decadence."

Lord Templeton added that "we like to win championships

...but if we do not win we shall refuse to regard defeat as a sign of national inferiority."

Swedish Net Captain Gives Yanks Edge

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Gunnar Gallin, diminutive sports magazine executive who captained the Swedish Davis Cup team, conceded today his boys have only an outside chance of upsetting the United States in the interzone finals here next week.

"Analyzing the situation coldly, I must not forget we are playing two of the five best amateurs in the world," Gallin said today. "We have only a 20 per cent chance of winning the series and 40 per cent chance of taking one match."

Then the greying Swedish captain added: "But I do not overlook any possibilities. As long as the ball is bouncing anything might happen. My boys are training well and are in good shape. Our hope is to make an interesting match of it."

The Swedes, winner of the European zone championship, probably will play two veteran internationalists, Sven Davidson and Lennart Bergelin. In both the singles and doubles, holding young Stefan Stockenberg, Sweden's champion, as an emergency reserve.

Sugar Jim 'Steady' Now; Canadiens Blank Leafs

Boston 2, Chicago 1; Montreal 2, Toronto 0
Detroit 3, New York 2

Sugar Jim Henry, shaken out of the National Hockey League by jumpy nerves, came back to Boston Bruins Thursday night. The 11-game rest was like a million-dollar treatment.

Henry and the Bruins stumped Chicago Black Hawks 2-1 in Boston to take over sole possession of fourth place in the league race.

Henry was steady as the Bruins grabbed their ninth victory in 25 starts of the 1954-55 campaign. He got plenty of support from his understudy, Bruin forwards and allowed only Nick Mickoski to beat him in the last period.

In two other games Thursday night, the league-leading Montreal Canadiens hung a 2-0 shut-out on Toronto Maple Leafs before 14,013 fans at Montreal Forum, and the third-place Red Wings edged New York Rangers 3-2 at Detroit.

Henry, 34-year-old native of Winnipeg, made several good stops to turn back the last-period goals by Cal Gardner and Doug Mohns gave him the victory. Mickoski's goal robbed him of his first shutout of the season.

17TH LOSS OF YEAR

It was the Hawks' 17th defeat this year. They have four victories and five ties.

Leftwinger Dickie Moore and rightwinger Floyd Curry fired the only goals in the hard-fought Toronto-Montreal engagement. Canadiens moved into a four-point lead over the second-place Leafs.

Rookie centre Jack Leclair had two throat arteries severed when he was cut by defenseman Larry Cahan's skate in the first period. He was taken to hospital and will be out for at least two weeks.

Giants Get Ralph Branca

NEW YORK (UP)—Pitcher Ralph Branca headed back to the minor leagues today—ironically as a farmhand of the team that dealt him the cruelest blow of his career, the New York Giants.

Branca, the Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who served up the pitch that Bobby Thomson of the Giants belted for a pennant-winning home run in the final game of the 1951 National League playoffs, was signed as a free agent Thursday by the Giants' Minneapolis farm team of the American Association.

Scribes Favor One-Platoon Grid System

NEW YORK (AP)—College football has had two years in which to get used to limited substitutions and "one-platoon" football apparently is here to stay.

At least United States sports writers and broadcasters say so by a thumping vote in their answers to The Associated Press post-season questionnaire. But there's a solid little core of experts who demand, "Bring back two-platoon football" and a group of others who favor some relaxation of the substitution rule.

The count of those who said a definite "yes" or "no" in their replies was 76 in favor of the present rule and 18 for free substitution. About a dozen suggested minor modifications. A number of others were noncommittal in their replies, several pointing out that the two-team system employed by many big colleges has more or less nullified the purposes of the anti-platoon rule.

LeBaron Jumps Again

WASHINGTON (UP)—Little Eddie LeBaron, who jumped to the Canadian football league last season, jumped back to the Washington Redskins Thursday. The "Mighty Mite" quarter-back quit the Redskins at the end of the 1953 season after a quarrel with then-coach Curly Lambeau, and played for Calgary of the Canadian Football Association.

"When Larry was dismissed by Calgary, there wasn't much incentive for me to remain in Canada," LeBaron said. "They treated me fine up there but I'm happy to return to Washington."

Both coach Joe Kuharich and owner George Preston Marshall were happy, too. Kuharich expressed delight in obtaining an experienced quarterback and one of the best fakers in modern football.

"Eddie will be an enormous help to our younger players," Kuharich said. "One of our chief difficulties has been the inexperience of our quarterbacks and having an old hand like LeBaron around will make all the difference in the world to Jack Scarbath and Al Dorow."

Marshall called LeBaron "a great little competitor, a good field general and a crowd-pleaser."

Boros Leads By Stroke

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A hand injury makes it a little difficult for Julius Boros to grip his golf club but the Mid-Pines, N.C., pro had a good grip on the Miami Open tournament lead today as the field began the second round.

Boros, wearing a bandage over his right thumb which he injured seriously enough to require four stitches a week ago, fired a four-under-par 66 in Thursday's opening round to go a stroke up on his nearest pursuers in the cumbersome 161-man field.

2 Nanaimo Aldermen Re-Elected to Council

MLA Foresees Tax Reduction For Education

R. M. Strachan Visits Council

LADYSMITH — R. M. Strachan, MLA for Cowichan-Newcastle, ventured a guess Wednesday night that the new education proposal expected at the next session of the Legislature will be in the form of a reduction formula.

He expressed the belief that the government would set a mill rate and would pay all school costs in excess of the amount raised in each area by that mill rate.

Mr. Strachan emphasized that he had no advance information on the school formula and that his ideas were based entirely on remarks made by the minister of education in three speeches he had made this year.

DECIDE COSTS
If his guess were correct, he said, the full effect of assessment equalization would not be known until this mill rate was announced. The mill rate would decide whether property owners would pay a greater or lesser share of school costs in future.

Mr. Strachan made these remarks during an informal discussion with the Ladysmith city council. He told the council that he plans to confer with the various local governments in the constituency in order to obtain their views before the next session of the legislature opens.

The subjects which he discussed with the Ladysmith council were assessment equalization, water resources and the Municipalities Act.

He said he did not think anyone would quarrel with assessment equalization, but the pattern to date suggestion that the result was going to be increased assessment. If this became a factor in the new school formula, it could mean that municipalities would have to pay more school taxes, he said.

He asked the council to provide him with local assessment and tax figures for recent years and with last year's financial statement so that he would be able to apply proposed new legislation to local conditions.

Increasing demands for water on Vancouver Island may make it necessary for some broader measure of control of water resources, he told the council. He said he has been doing considerable research into the administration of water resources in other parts of Canada and the United States to determine how the problem is being met in other areas.

CANCEL RIGHTS
He mentioned one state where a water resources commission has been set up with power to cancel water rights which have not been used for a period of 10 years, and to insure that resources are being fully used.

"There should be something like that for foreshore rights, too," Mayor Leonard Ryan interjected. "The development of Ladysmith has been held back for years because people who aren't using foreshore rights have held on to them in the hope of getting a better price."

Mr. Strachan pointed out that in the past water rights have been handed out almost in perpetuity and now rapidly growing communities are facing a problem of supply.

"I think that from the point of view of public health a good case could be made for government assistance," he said, but said he thought it would be difficult to persuade the government to enter a new field.

Defeat of Police-Fire By-Law May Force RCMP to Move Office

NANAIMO—One of the years resulted in re-election of a newcomer, and defeat of the Firehall-Police Station By-Law.

Ald. George Bryce led the field of five candidates entered in the race for three seats. Newcomer Grant Williams took a comfortable second place, while the third seat was won by Ald. Mrs. Alan Hall, air for two-year terms.

The contentious $247,000 fire hall police station by-law went down to defeat for the second time this year.

Possibility now is that, with no prospect of adequate accommodation, RCMP may be forced to move their headquarters to Duncan.

MISS DEADLINE
They had previously agreed to allow time to build on a site to be selected, but there seems no prospect of meeting the December, 1955, deadline for suitable quarters.

On defeat of the by-law, Mayor George Muir said: "I'm very disappointed, of course, but it's the wish of the people. I'm afraid it's a serious thing for Nanaimo."

A gas franchise by-law won strong support of Nanaimo ratepayers by a vote of 1,742 to 877.

Elsewhere on Vancouver Island incumbents were returned to office in elections marked by tight voting. Sole exception was Ald. Elmar Churchill, who lost his seat on the Alberni council to W. T. Neale, a newcomer, by 21 votes.

Detailed results of the votes follow, with incumbent members indicated by "X":

Ferry Wharf Site Cleared At Crofton

CROFTON — Preliminary work on the Crofton wharf, required prior to construction of ferry slips for the inter-island ferry service, was carried out this week by Eakins Construction Company of Vancouver and Sidney.

A submerged pile at the former government wharf was pulled out by the Victoria Dredging Co. Marine diver G. H. Luscombe of Esquimalt, dived twice to attach lines to the pile before it was pulled clear.

The dredge has returned to Victoria, and construction on the ferry wharf will begin right after Christmas.

It was announced last week by Gavin Mouat, president of Gulf Islands Ferry Co., that tenders for the Vesuvius Bay wharf would be called immediately. The federal government is building the wharves and the provincial government will subsidize the ferry service.

Qualicum Trustees Reaffirm Protested School Contract

QUALICUM BEACH — Decision to award a contract for the construction of a large addition to the Parkville Junior High School to a firm outside the district was reaffirmed at a special meeting of the board of School District 69 (Qualicum) called to hear protests from several local organizations.

A & B Construction Co., Nanaimo, was selected for the work with the lowest tender of $111,705. Next was Qualicum Construction Co. with tender of $111,927, a difference of $222. Other bids were: Timber Steel Structures Ltd., Vancouver, $115,640; J. A. Pollard Construction Co., Victoria, $129,198; Orion Building Co., Nanaimo, $127,500; Greenall Bros., South Burnaby, $141,500.

Representatives of Qualicum Beach Chamber of Commerce, Qualicum Beach Branch of the Canadian Legion, and others protested the award of the contract to an outside firm with such a small difference in tenders, and expressed the opinion the board's decision should be reversed because of increasing unemployment among local workmen.

In a letter to the board, the legion stated: "In view of the growing unemployment situation in this district we feel that since the bid of the local firm, Qualicum Construction Co., was only some $200 higher than the bid of the outside contractor,

'The Paper Talks About Kids In Trouble—Then It's Yours'

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—"You pick up the paper and read about kids getting into trouble, and you pray it'll never happen to yours. The next day you pick up the paper, and it's yours."

Those words spoke truck driver Sylvester D'Urbano's bewilderment today as his only child was summoned into court with two other teen-age boys to answer a charge of murder.

Joseph D'Urbano, 16; Salvatore Pizzurro, 17, and Angelo Mercurio, 18, are charged with killing Harry Ablovitz, 72, in a profitless attempted holdup of his gasoline station Wednesday

Ablovitz' widow called the crime "senseless"—for the slayers raced away after the shooting without touching any of the $87 in a cash register or the $16 in Ablovitz' pockets.

The boys gave no sign that they understood their predicament.

"They have no idea of the seriousness of their crime," said detective William Ganon as the three, grinning and wisecracking, were led to separate cells.

The three re-enacted the crime Thursday at the gasoline station, talking volubly and using extravagant gestures.

Dr. Sam Tells Hushed Court How He Heard His Wife Cry Out and Rushed to Her Aid

By H. D. QUINN

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard recited calmly in court today his story of hearing his wife cry his name in the night and dashing to her rescue only to be knocked out by her slayer.

The 30-year-old osteopathic brain surgeon said the day of July 3 had been an exhausting one for him, and he was in a deep sleep when he first heard the cry sometime after midnight on the chilly, windy morning of July 4.

"The first thing that I can recall is hearing Marilyn cry out my name once or twice, which was followed by loud moans and noises of some sort," he said.

He had gone to sleep watching television on the living room couch. He said he thinks he remembers vaguely that his wife, Marilyn, aroused him at some time and said she was going to bed. He resumed sleeping soundly.

"I was awakened by her cries," he continued. "My drowsy recollection was stimulated to go to Marilyn, which I did as soon as I could navigate." Dr. Sam, the picture of the conscientious young professional man, sat straight in the chair, his hands folded in his lap, and talked directly to the jury.

"My subconscious feeling was that Marilyn was experiencing one of the convulsions she had during her pregnancy," he said.

"I ascended the stairway. As I got upstairs and into the room I felt I could visualize a form of some type with a light top."

"I tried to go to Marilyn and was intercepted, and I grappled and felt I was struck from behind, and my recollection was cut off."

The courtroom audience, the jury, common pleas Judge Edward Blythin in his black robes and even the prosecutors seemed held rapt by his narration. It was well-composed, with few of the short words of emotion, but laced with rather academic expressions.

"Next," he continued, "I had a vague sensation of being in a sitting position right next to Marilyn's bed, facing the hallway, facing south. I vaguely recognized my wallet."

"Is there any way of determining the length of time between the time you were knocked out and the time you came to in a sitting position?" asked defense attorney William J. Corigan.

"No, sir, no way that I know of," Dr. Sheppard replied.

Bright Red Berries Speed From 'Holly Capital' to Cheer Dusty Prairie Hamlet

It will be "Holly Day" in this "Holly Capital of Canada" Saturday as it will in the dusty little Mennonite farm village of Schoenfeld, Saskatchewan.

In Victoria nearly 14,000 holly bountifulness will be distributed to customers by 40 downtown stores, sparked by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

In Schoenfeld, where nobody has ever seen the brightly-berried Yuletide growth, people will be getting a bit of holly also through efforts of the chamber here.

Holly in Victoria will be given out by members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, and in Schoenfeld by Grade Seven schoolgirl Nettie Bueckert, aged 13.

The holly is now en route to her via Trans-Canada Airlines.

It all started last week when Nettie wrote the chamber here, saying "We have heard that holly grows in your city. We have never seen real holly except in pictures. Would you mind sending us a few branches?"

The chamber contacted the Vancouver Island Holly Growers' Co-operative Association at Brentwood. They said they'd be most happy to fill the little girl's wish, and did.

Nettie is a pupil in Massey school, where there are 28 pupils.

The village has a population of only 100 persons, without telephone, bus, or train.

Nearest train service is at Wymark, three miles away.

Wymark is near Swift Current, on a bleak, a portion of prairie as could be imagined.

Nettie's request for holly arose from a teacher-pupil discussion on the origin of Christmas symbols. Teacher is Mrs. Phoebe Hanna.

In the letter accompanying the holly to Schoenfeld, the chamber says: "Out here in Victoria, Canada's 'Holly Capital,' we pride ourselves on growing the finest Christmas holly found anywhere in the world."

The chamber here isn't confining itself to impressing residents of Schoenfeld alone. Next week mayors of eastern Canadian cities will receive boxes of specially wrapped Christmas holly as gifts from the chamber. Enclosed also will be special Christmas greetings from chamber president Stuart Keate.

This is a good holly year for the area, and close to 20 tons will have been shipped in bulk, plus 25,000 attractive packages of holly, to eastern centres as far away as Halifax.

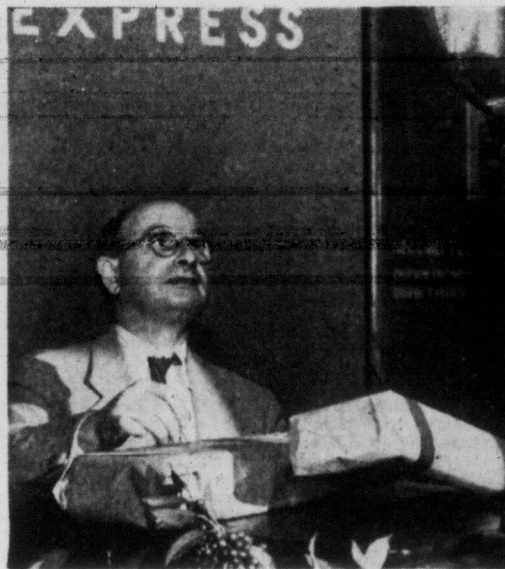

Holly picking started December 2 and will end December 18 to give time for shipments to reach the east.

Bright holly is clipped for Mennonite village.

At Brentwood berried product gets pretty package.

Here it is weighed before flight via TCA.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Just because the votes are all in and counted, you needn't think the civic election of December 9, 1954, is over. My Favorite Wife knows better.

"I think I will run for civic office," My Favorite Wife said this morning.

You had better finish your breakfast, and run for the bus, I suggested.

"I won't need to run for the bus this morning," she said. "I will have one of the city cars call for me. After all, a successful candidate is entitled to some privileges."

Wait a minute, I protested. What's this about being a successful candidate? If you are going to run for civic office, you will have to wait until NEXT year's election.

"There you go again," said MFW. "Always putting things off. Why should I wait a year? I intend to be elected in THIS year's election not NEXT year's."

"Next year," she added complacently, "I'll only be re-elected."

But how can you be elected this year, I asked, when the 1954 election was held yesterday?

"Oh, but the election wasn't fair. The voters didn't know I had decided to run."

Why didn't they know you had decided to run, I asked. "Because I hadn't decided," she explained patiently.

Oh, I said.

So you can see, the election yesterday wasn't fair at all. So I have decided to get elected today."

You have a reason, no doubt, I suggested.

"Certainly, Friday is a much better day than Thursday on which to get elected. When you get elected on Friday, the next day is Saturday, and city hall is closed Saturday, so you start off in office by having a holiday right away."

This is a sound idea, I agreed, but don't you realize, you can't get elected today. The voters all voted yesterday.

"The voters ALL voted, did you say?" MFW demanded.

Well, no, I admitted, only 7,280 voters voted.

"And how many voters didn't vote?" she asked.

The figure is 13,154, I said.

"There, you see how simple it is?" she asked. "I'll just use all the votes that were left over, and I'll have a great big majority."

"I'm not too proud to use left-over votes," she added.

You may find it a little hard to explain to the other aldermen how you got elected, I said.

"What do you mean, other aldermen?" cried my Favorite Wife.

"With 13,154 votes, even left-over, unused votes, do you think I would settle for being a mere alderman?"

"Hand me my cloak," she concluded. "I must hurry down to city hall and veto something."

Moral: Always use your vote on election day. You never know what might happen to it.

Rambunctious friends reverted to childhood rock-throwing days on Belmont Avenue Tuesday night. Peeved because their pal refused to join their party-going group, they tore down a fence at the home and hurled rocks through a window. Stones and splinters of glass just missed an infant asleep in the room.

Flying rocks also are blamed by police for an "explosion" that shattered two windows in a Douglas Street house about the same time. But no one in the vicinity saw the rock-thrower.

Baby-Whipper Punished By $100 Fine

Leather Belt Used To Beat Infant

A city man today was fined $100 or one month when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall at a special sitting of Saanich police court for sentence on a charge of assault against a two-year-old child.

Keith Cathcart, 645 Ardshire, was remanded Thursday to today after a lengthy trial.

In imposing sentence, Magistrate Hall said that he hoped the accused would discuss with people of the child guidance group on how to deal correctly with children.

Mrs. Helen Johnson, 1923 Quadra, testified Thursday that she had earlier placed her two children in the Cathcart house, hold and paid room and board.

BUTTOCKS BRUISED

She took her son, Bryon, home on Nov. 27 and discovered the child's bruised condition. Dr. John W. Hunt examined the child Nov. 29.

He told the court that he discovered moderately severe bruises on both buttocks, similar bruises inside the left thigh, less severe bruises in the middle of the back and over the right cheek.

He said there was a healing split about three sixteenths of an inch in length on the lower lip and a crack in the thigh skin.

PSYCHOLOGICAL INJURY

A Saanich police officer and a detective said that Cathcart admitted punishing the child with his belt for wetting. They told court the accused had said he hit the child "about three or four times."

Dr. Hunt said that while a physical injury was not permanent, it could easily affect the child psychologically.

An RCMP photographer identified pictures showing the child's bruised condition which he took at request of the Saanich police.

The child will be three years old this month.

There was a supposed debt of $24 for milk for the children for two months. Defense counsel Ronald Grant suggested there had been an argument as to who would pay the amount.

STARTLING ATTITUDE

Prosecutor Lloyd McKenzie commented that the Cathcart's attitude toward spanking a child was startling.

Magistrate Hall said that he was "absolutely startled," not only by this incident, but by the fact that Cathcart had punished his own child with a belt since he has been four months old. This was brought out in defense testimony.

Cathcart was given until Tuesday of next week to pay the fine.

Several character witnesses were called today by the defense. All testified the accused had "excellent character."

RCN CRUISER PRETTIES FOR SOUTH SEA JAUNT

HMCS Ontario is wearing a lighter navy grey coat of paint as she receives last-minute touches preparatory to a long cruise in southern waters, leaving here early in January.

The Pacific Command cruiser, recently changed from operational status to a training ship for the use of HMCS Venture officer-candidates, will take about half the 162 enrolled cadets on a voyage to the Antipodes.

Exact ports of call have not been announced, pending official clearance.

Thieves Ransack South Park School

Teachers' Desks Rifled Overnight; Burglars Get $53 From Union Cash Boxes

A city school was ransacked and a labor union office robbed of $53.50 in two overnight break-ins being investigated today by city police.

A janitor at South Park School, called police at 7:20 a.m. today. He said someone had forced entry through a Michigan Street door. Inside, thieves had forced a large window above the door to the principal's office.

Drawers and cupboards were pulled open and their contents strewn about. Losses, if any, were not immediately known. Teachers' desks in each classroom were also systematically rifled.

J. Bath, 1725 Carrick, of Local No. 3, Machinists, Fitters and Helpers Union (CCL-CIO), told police that a filing cabinet had been forced open in the union offices at 715 Johnson.

Two cash boxes were opened and $53.50 taken.

A cash box in the adjoining office of the Shipwrights, Joiners and Caulkers Union (CCL-CIO), was also located by the culprits. Police reported no losses.

An attempted entry was reported at 943 Yates where Frank L. Bott, of that address, reported a screen had been torn from a rear window and a light fixture broken overnight.

Walk Promised On Underpass Where Man Died

Provincial public works officials stated today that a sidewalk will be provided on a bridge on Helmcken Road which crosses Deadman's River.

A fatality occurred at the mouth of the bridge last month and nearby residents have angrily petitioned government roads officials for safety improvements.

Chief concern is the proximity of a new View Royal Elementary school which draws students from areas across the bridge.

George W. Halliday, 81, was killed November 27 after a car skidded on the bridge and struck another car which in turn struck the elderly pedestrian.

20-Year-Old Gets Year For Theft of 3 Cars

In city police court today Frank Parham, 1012 North Park Street, was sentenced to Okalla young offenders' unit for one year determinate and one year indeterminate on charges of stealing three cars within 48 hours.

He was given the same sentence on each charge, but the sentences are concurrent.

Parham, about 20, gave a false name at a city car dealer's lot then took a car for a trial spin. He failed to return.

Aldermanic Trio Against Secrecy

City Hall Curtain Soon To Be Lifted?

By DAVE STOCK

Strong indication that the 1955 City Council may relax certain sections of the council procedure by-law so reporters will once again be permitted to attend council committee meetings was seen today.

Three of the four aldermen elected in Thursday's civic election said today they would vote in favor of allowing reporters into committee meetings. The fourth said he had an open mind on the question.

The three on record as willing to open committee meetings are Ald. Robert Macmillan, Ald. Arthur Dowell and J. Donald Smith. The fourth, who said he intended to give the matter serious study before committing himself, is newly-elected alderman Austin Curran.

These four, together with Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, another advocate of open committee meetings, would be enough to carry a vote on the matter.

TOPPED POLL

Ald. Macmillan, who topped the poll in Thursday's election, has been a most vigorous opponent of the secrecy by-law since it was first proposed by the mayor last March.

Mr. Smith, a former alderman making a comeback into civic politics, said that he, too, was opposed to the by-law, and that his first motion in council would be to ask for its repeal.

Ald. Dowell, one of those who voted for the by-law last April, indicated he would not be in favor of its repeal, but stated: "If someone brings in a resolution that the press be allowed into committee meetings, then I would go along with it and support it."

IN KEY POSITION

Mr. Curtis, who comes to council after 14 years as a school trustee, explained: "I have a completely open mind on the matter. When I find out what the procedure is, then I shall decide what my position shall be."

His stand will apparently decide the issue, since there is no indication that the mayor, Ald. Millard Mooney, Ald. Brent Murdoch or Ald. William Pinfold, who supported the by-law last April, are in favor of a change.

Thirty-one-year-old Ald. Macmillan, who received 4,573 votes, said he considered the support given him was endorsement of his stand that the public's business should be kept public.

"The general public can definitely be assured they will be informed of everything that goes on at City Hall during the next year," Ald. Macmillan said.

Mr. Curtis came second in the tabulation with a total of 4,545 votes; Ald. Dowell was third

42 WASTED THEIR TIME AT CITY POLL

Forty-two persons wasted their time when they went to vote at the City Market Building Thursday.

For various reasons, not one of their ballots counted.

In addition to the 42 complete sets that had to be ruled out, there were 425 individual ballots rejected.

Returning Officer Frank Hunter reported that of the 42 complete sets which were declared invalid there were 29 that were written on or carried some mark which could have identified the voter. Eight sets were put aside because they were mutilated or separated; four sets were spoiled because they were marked outside the squares provided, and one set was turned in completely blank.

Of the 425 separate ballots that were not counted; 380 were unmarked or void because of improper marking; 43 were thrown out because too many candidates had been voted for, and two were turned in blank.

'BEAUTIFUL BLOOD'

Defeated Candidate Won Baby's Battle

Defeated city aldermanic candidate, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, lost the election, Thursday, but she won a more desperate battle early this week.

She was the key figure in a successful attempt to save the life of an "Rh baby."

Mrs. Wilson is one of comparatively few registered blood donors in Victoria with O Group, Rh negative blood.

When a child is born with the blood deficiency, immediate transfusion is all that will save its life.

The emergency arose early Tuesday morning. There was only one 20-cc bottle of the proper type blood available. Two were needed.

Hospital officials contacted Red Cross Transfusion Service workers who scanned their lists.

In the case of a baby, the donor must be a woman. That narrowed the field.

Finally a call was put through to Mrs. Wilson.

Tired from an arduous campaign, Mrs. Wilson was especially weary and in need of rest that night.

She had just returned from a public all-candidate rally at Britannia Branch Canadian Legion.

But she got out of bed, dressed and hurried to the hospital to give the vital blood.

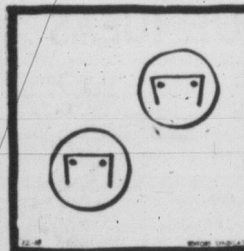

Victorians can ensure that last-minute emergencies do not arise in future by attending a special blood clinic at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort, next week. The clinic will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and on Thursday will move to the Parliament Buildings.

"Make This Your Christmas Gift" is the slogan of the blood drive. Needed are 1,200 donors. Gyro Club members will attend

Q. Regarding civilian residents taken prisoner of war during the last conflict. Can you tell me if there is, or will be, compensation paid to widows and dependents of prisoners who died while prisoners of war?

A. Your proper course is to write directly to the Canadian Pension Commission, Daily Building, Ottawa, Ont., stating the conditions under which the civilian had been living, his age, his nationality—Canadian citizen or British subject—and any other important details. The Times is informed such cases are dealt with on an individual basis and hence no general rule can be outlined.

DROODLES

My colleagues, Dr. Schwine and Dr. Kitzenger are always interested in unusual food products such as the above. They are the inventors of Peppermint Flavored Caraway Seeds and Filter Tipped Macaroni and have just developed a new dog biscuit which should be a gold mine as well as a boon to jaded dogs. The "S&K Dog Biscuits" will be sure fire because they contain a secret ingredient — cat. Scientific tests have proved that 40 per cent of dogs belonging to doctors prefer cat. The other 60 per cent prefer mailmen, but making a mailman-flavored dog biscuit might lead to difficulties with the civil service. (In connection with the cat-flavored biscuits, Dr. Schwine has worked out a profitable sideline—selling milk coats.)

Rhubarb From California
Makes (Mmh) Good Dessert

By PENNY SAVER

When was the last time you served a rhubarb dessert? I thought so! Not for quite some time. That is because, in case you didn't notice, we haven't been able to get rhubarb until a week or so ago, when California started to supply us with it. At the moment, rhubarb is fairly plentiful around town, and by the time Christmas arrives, we'll have all we can eat of it. Price of rhubarb is 18 cents a pound.

Another import from the sunny state is celery. Huge heads of it, green and crisp, sell in Victoria for 20 cents each. Now if you're wanting it for stuffing with cheese, it's ideal, but if you're thinking of salad-making or turkey stuffing, why not use local celery? You see, local celery is only 10 cents a head, and even though the heads are smaller and the stalks are not so perfectly formed, when chopped up in bits, you'd never know the difference!

It's been a good long time since I've seen mushrooms as plump as the ones I spotted today. As I looked at them hungrily (I've a passion for mushrooms) I could visualize them a golden brown, freshly fried in butter and ready to smother a steak. For a pound you pay 80 cents.

Shop around and you'll find that you can purchase Japanese oranges much more reasonably this week. Some shops are retaining last week's tag of 35 cents for two pounds and one store is even selling 'em for 20 cents a pound... but I did see some at 29 cents for two pounds—a considerably lower tag.

You'll find Kentucky Wonder beans selling now at 29 cents a pound; green peas, 19 cents a pound; cucumbers, 21 cents each; Swiss chard, 12 cents a pound; broccoli, 20 cents a pound; cabbage, 8 cents a pound; turnip, 6 cents a pound; lettuce, 18 cents a head.

Everywhere you go you'll see holly in Victoria. Stores are full of it. Some I saw today, a deep green and heavily berried, was priced at 49 cents a pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Michell, 1627 Earle Street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary quietly at their home last Tuesday. They were married in the old Christ Church Cathedral by Bishop Perrin and have spent all their married life in Victoria. Mr. Michell is the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Michell of Vancouver, formerly of Devonshire, Eng., and Mrs. Michell is Beatrice, elder daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Hooper, pioneers of this city, who came from Cornwall, Eng. The bride of 50 years ago was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. W. J. Hooper, and attended by her sister, Miss Laura E. C. Hooper. Best man was brother of the groom, J. E. Michell, Vancouver. Mr. Michell is well known in the Masonic Fraternity, being a Past Master of the United Services Lodge, No. 24, AF and AM. For many years he was city purchasing agent. Dillabaugh was named president; Mrs. S. Slater, vice president; Miss Jean Tiffin, secretary; Mrs. J. Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. R. LeQueune, condolee cards; Mrs. Victor Peterson and Mrs. W. Tingle of Colwood and Mrs. R. Matthias and Mrs. T. McKay, Langford, and Mrs. D. Flatman, Glen Lake, sick visiting; Mrs. Nimmo and Mrs. Slater, social.

Rev. Laura Butler conducted the installation ceremony and spoke briefly on the trials and rewards of starting a new church.

Mrs. Jack LeQueune was convener of the nominations committee. Report given by Mrs. J. Jackson showed a bank balance of $221.54. An additional $20 was voted to the Women's Educational Auxiliary of Union College.

Miss Tiffin was named to assist teachers with arrangements for a Christmas party for children of the Sunday school. Mrs. P. Tiffin was appointed group captain of a proposed new afternoon auxiliary. It was announced that the women's auxiliary will take turns with men of the church board in forming a reception committee for Sunday morning services.

Refreshments were served, Mrs. R. LeQueune acting as co-hostess with Mrs. Nimmo.

Make a meat and corn casserole by mixing together 1½ cups yellow corn, 3 cups cooked white rice, 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, ½ cup catsup, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper and 1 cup water or juice from corn. Pour into a baking dish. Top with slices of luncheon meat and finally, slices of cheese on the luncheon meat. Bake at 350 degrees F for 30 minutes.

Dresser drawers can be cleaned easily if they're coated, early in the game, with a thin solution of fresh white shellac. Put on two coats and you can dust with ease instead of scrubbing.

CGIT Rededication Service Sunday in Fairfield Church

National Christmas vesper service of Canadian Girls in Training in Fairfield United Church, Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. will lay emphasis on the simple truth and beauties of Christmas which often become lost in the rush and commercialism of the time. Since 1939 the vesper service has been prepared by the national CGIT committee to give thousands of members across Canada the opportunity of worshipping together, though miles apart, through the use of the same order of service. Locally, under leadership of Victoria CGIT girls' council, with Mrs. T. M. Standbridge as sponsor, CGIT girls in the United Church, Presbyterian and Baptist churches will meet on Sunday afternoon. Noreen Gordon, president of the council, assisted by Rev. Laura Butler and CGIT representatives from various churches, will conduct the service. Climax of the service will be the lighting of three candles symbolizing "The Work of Our Hands," "Friendship" and "World Brotherhood," and a dedication service. This service of rededication has become a symbol of the strength and unity of the Canadian Girls in Training. The CGIT choir will be under direction of Mrs. Alma T. Wittick with Mrs. Ronald Webster at the organ. CGIT girls of Fairfield United Church, directed by Mrs. Thelma Varcoe, will be the ushers. The public is invited to attend.

Angry Words Should Not Be Put on Paper

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PHD

It is never safe to put angry thoughts on paper. That is what the young woman who wrote the following letter is finding. She says:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I have been going steady with a young man for a year and I love him very much. However, he makes me so angry at times that I can hardly control my temper. He thinks he is a lady-killer and likes to flirt with the girls. Well, the other night was the last straw. He took me to a dance and found a pretty little thing he had never seen before. So, he spent all evening with her, leaving me high and dry. I was so angry that I hardly spoke to him on the way home. Then I sat down and let him have it in a letter. I am sure I hurt his pride, as I haven't heard a word from him since and he usually calls me several times a day. Should I write and apologize, or just wait and let him get over it?"

(A)—What makes you so sure that your friend will "get over" what you said to him in your letter—or that all you have to do is say "I'm sorry" and he will gladly come back to you? Have you ever thought that your letter may have been the final straw for him too?

No one—man, woman, or child—likes to read unpleasant things about himself or herself. They always seem so much worse on paper than they do when spoken. And the reader has no come-back, as the listener has. Because you were seething with pent-up rage when you wrote that letter, the chances are that you said even more than you would have said face-to-face.

But the damage is done. The chances are that you and he will never be on the same footing as you were before, even though you may resume your friendship. He has probably pigeon-holed you in his mind as a "shrew" and has no further thoughts of marrying you, even if he had such thoughts before.

While this may be a bitter pill for you to swallow now, you should be glad that it happened. A man who likes to think of himself as a "lady-killer" is certainly not promising husband material. And, from this experience, you should have learned a lesson about writing letters that will help you in your future romances.

Baby seems to heal like magic. When he's tiny, he may scratch his tender skin or develop a rash. But, almost before you have a chance to get upset about it, it's gone. This may give you a tip to keep calm even in the face of a vivid-looking diaper rash or pimples on the forehead. Don't fuss with it, except for using your regular diaper lotion or powder. Don't pick or touch his pimples. His skin, which is so new and untried, will be smooth and soft by tomorrow in most cases.

HEADED FOR SECOND OSCAR?

Crosby Risks Career To Play Alcoholic

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Bing Crosby admitted today he was severely criticized when he accepted the role of a hateful alcoholic—but he was more worried about whether he could act the part.

The crooner, regarded as the most famous popular singer in the world, risked his fabulous career when he agreed to portray a preserved-in-alcohol singer in "The Country Girl."

"The picture is the tragic figure appears certain to win him an academy nomination and possibly the Oscar itself to add to the one he collected 10 years ago for portraying a priest."

"There was quite a bit of criticism in Catholic periodicals and in fan mail when I accepted the part," Crosby said in an interview at his home as he prepared to head for the golf course.

"But I thought there was more to the role than the man's struggle against alcohol. It was more a fight by this fellow to overcome his insecurity, his unreliability. You don't often get a chance to play something like that, with someone as sensitive as George Seaton to direct you."

Low key lighting in the film often makes the famous Bing look like an old, pathetic drunk, but the actor said he was not at all concerned about his looks.

"You can't play musicals all the time," he said. "In every other picture I was always just playing myself, playing Bing Crosby. This picture gave me a chance to play another character."

"Sure, I'd love to be nominated for an Oscar. It would be heartwarming to be recognized that way. But I don't see how anybody can top Marlon Brando for 'On the Waterfront.'"

Saanich Man Pleads Guilty To Burglary

Hearing Held On Second Charge

A Saanich man, 21-year-old Vernon Umphrey, pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of breaking and entering Canadian Legion, Britannia Branch, 1616 Blanshard, late Saturday night. He was remanded to next Thursday for sentence.

Thursday, Umphrey was committed for trial in Saanich police court on a charge of breaking and entering and attempted theft at Brackman-Ker Milling Co. Ltd., Douglas Street.

He was apprehended by a police Sunday night when a newly-installed burglar alarm flashed a warning.

Umphrey was arrested by a police Sunday night when a newly-installed burglar alarm flashed a warning.

Court was told that on the night of the crime a car identified as belonging to the accused was parked in the vicinity on Tennyson Avenue.

Entrance to the premises was gained through a washroom window. There was clay and mud foot marks on the floor leading to the main office, where the handle to a vault was knocked off.

The safe had not been entered. A wheel wrench was found on the washroom floor. Questioned by police officers, Umphrey said he went to a show on November 17 and after the show he went up-island. He said his car could have been parked on Tennyson.

He is alleged to have told officers "I'm no squalor. I've been in the pen before and am not afraid to go back again."

Police were unable to find a wheel wrench when searching Umphrey's car.

Clothes found under the bed at his residence, 1119 Colville Road, had a quantity of mud on them, court also was told.

GORGEOUS Kim Novak is the co-star of "Five Against the House," Hollywood's latest hit movie. The 22-year-old glamour queen is a former model from Chicago, Ill.

Crosby Defendant In $1 Million Suit

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Trial of a $1,000,000 damage suit against crooner Bing Crosby over the car accident injuries suffered by three persons began Thursday in Superior Court.

Crosby was accused of driving his $12,000 Mercedes-Benz sports car in a reckless manner while under the influence of liquor on October 11, 1953.

The suit was brought by Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Verdugo of Tarzana, Calif., and Mrs. Verdugo's brother, Eulalio Perea.

Crosby's attorneys denied negligence and in a counter-suit said Verdugo was "not only under the influence of liquor but his faculties were impaired by reason of lack of proper rest and sleep."

U.S. Bars Homeland To Red China Scholars

35 American-Trained Chinese Stopped From Returning To Work For Communists

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has barred 35 Chinese scholars trained in this country from going home to make their skills available to the Chinese Communist regime, American officials reported today.

Officials said the question of allowing the Chinese to leave this country is under "continuous study" by the state, defense and justice departments.

The United States has turned thumbs down on any "deal" with the Reds to swap the remaining Chinese students in this country for the 28 Americans jailed in Red China or the unfreezing of about $130,000,000 in Chinese assets in this country.

The Chinese scholars and students went to the U.S. before the Reds seized the mainland. When the Korean war started in June, 1950, this government ordered that none of the 4,500 Chinese students here at that time could go home. Of this number, about 450 later expressed a desire to go home. Around 124 of these were denied permission to go home after the war. Half of this total later changed their minds and decided to stay in the United States.

RIVIOUS BRITISH COMEDY

LIGHTS OF SCOTLAND, CIRCA 1586

According to Scottish history, the first street lights of Edinburgh were lanterns which the town ordered "taverners and stables" to display before their houses from 5 to 9 every evening. Five years later, "taverners" were also required to have lanterns over their stairways as well.

Jew-Baiting Nazis Appear in W. Berlin

Spectators at Political Rally Dragged From Seats, Beaten, Called 'Jewish Swine'

By PETER WEBB

BERLIN (UP)—The jack-booted rowdies and Jew-baiters of the Nazi era have made a sinister reappearance in West Berlin.

Their activities in the recent election campaign recalled the bloody election battles of 1932 when Adolf Hitler's "Brown shirts" bludgeoned their way to power in the most lawless period of German history.

West Berliners, who regard themselves as the most freedom-loving and democratic of the German people, are shocked to discover the would-be storm troopers still among them.

The biggest shock came at a "German party" election rally when spectators who refused to sing "Deutschland Ueber Alles" were dragged from their seats, savagely beaten and denounced as "Jewish swine."

"You seemed to have escaped the gas chamber," party officials jeered at them.

The party officials were wearing jack boots, tight-fitting riding breeches, field grey shirts and black ties.

The incident at the rally aroused an immediate outcry and resulted in an overwhelming vote of censure in the West Berlin city parliament. Trade unions, student groups and Jewish associations joined in condemning the ugly manifestation of Nazi feeling.

The "German party" is an extremist nationalist group. Its officials said the incident had been "exaggerated" and was "provoked by outside elements." But it was not an isolated incident. There have been many others in recent months.

Allied officials are inclined to minimize the importance of the right-wing fanatics and describe their activities as "isolated incidents." But West Berliners who saw the same thing happen more than 20 years ago are worried.

Toronto Pays $47,613 for Entertaining

TORONTO (CP)—The City of Toronto has paid $47,613 for entertainment at a downtown hotel since January 1, 1952, a check of the city's books disclosed Thursday night.

In a 2½-hour scanning of the books, newspaper reporters found that of this amount $11,231 was authorized by Allan Lamport when he was mayor and was listed under items headed "entertainment of the mayor's visitors."

Opening of the books was authorized by board of control in the absence of caretaker Mayor Leslie Saunders, who refused to make them available to the public. Mr. Lamport served as mayor from January 1, 1952, to last June, when he resigned.

The spending of city money was a hot issue in Monday's elections. During the campaign, which ended in the defeat of caretaker Mayor Leslie Saunders and the election of Nathan Phillips, opponents of Mr. Saunders charged that a city hall clique was ruling the city from a plush suite in a downtown hotel.

An item-by-item check of the accounts gave no breakdown of entries other than under headings such as restaurant, tips, newsstand, special purchases and special entertaining.

Quebec Votes $10 Million for Mental Hospitals

QUEBEC CITY, Que. (UP)—The Quebec legislature Thursday night voted $10,000,000 to the government after Premier Maurice Duplessis indicated it would be used towards construction of four 1,500-bed mental hospitals.

After a stormy debate the bill was passed by a vote of 53 to 17.

Duplessis said that the government will have to spend in the near future about $50,000,000 to build the four mental hospitals.

VACCINE AGAINST COLD, 'FLU BEING DEVELOPED

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk of Pittsburgh today reported new evidence that his polio vaccine can create powerful, long-lasting protection against polio.

And he hinted that knowledge being learned in the polio work may show the way some day for vaccine giving long-term protection against the common cold and influenza.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Getting in supplies early, studying and settling accounts, completing reports releases later for trips and jaunts with congenial comrades that can bring unusual happiness and worthwhile results. Expand.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Painting, repairing, fixing your property so that it is worth more should be especially arranged for this whole day. Think out new ways to please, delight those in authority.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Keeping your attention focused this excellent weekend on ways to get more for your money, ways to merchandise your products, getting ideas from experts or financial wizards can make this most important time. Be practical.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)

Get out early having beauty treatments, haircuts, whatever enhances your own magnetic quality. Rest of day, P.M., excellent for getting together with all newcomers who can enrich your existence.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

Listen quietly to that intuition, perception of yours which is so accurate this weekend; give it a chance to give you some unusual hunch that will lighten your whole existence. Be sure to make long-range plans for home, family.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Merchandising your wares by making arrangement for others to accept your output brings excellent results, so be on your toes to seek out those most apt to be interested, then get your points across.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY...

Saturday's child is one of those very fortunate youngsters who will have a very emotional exterior that will understand appeal to others, while beneath the surface there will be an eager urge to have the right philosophical precepts in proven principles that will make the whole life a delight to those fortunate enough to be members of his, or her, family or in the circle of friends and acquaintances. Fine chart for big financial ventures in connection with public commodities.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Some member of your family acts in highly upsetting fashion early in day that could cause quick but unnecessary separation. Sit down quietly, after attending services of your choice; come to real meeting of minds.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Try to get away from all duties, take jaunt to see close companions and you find chance to enter new cycle of effective relationship—but be sure you drive or walk carefully on highway.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Refraining from temptation to commit yourself and spend far more than you can afford requires real character. Seek inexpensive delights that have been suitable in past.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)

Now you really have to watch that sensitive tendency, for you have all kinds of conditions that could make you feel you are abused; self-pity only adds to your confusion. Get your health at higher realization.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

You feel you've been working at slow-moving restrictions too long, although actually you are making headway; it's just the planetary positions—gooding—you to move a little faster without breaking up current conditions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Highly talented, dynamic backer and admirer may make you nervous because he, or she, is trying to get you to act with greater decision, which is wise. Stop asking advice of everyone. Find expert and follow conscientiously.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY...

Sunday's child is one of those very broad-minded individuals who, as he or she matures, will have to do something vital to the national welfare or some financial occupation of consequence if the energies are to be diverted from channels that could otherwise cause confusion to quite a number of people. See to it that your child has a sound business training but also combine this education with some very philosophical courses which tell motives and reasons. Psychiatry is a good training for developing latent talents.

Britain's Output Of Jet Fighters Months Behind

LONDON (UP)—Deliveries of Britain's late-model jet fighters are lagging months behind schedule, jeopardizing the air defense of this country and its European allies, it was reported today.

Press reports tacitly confirmed by official circles say lack of co-ordination between manufacturers and the RAF is to blame for the dangerous delay.

PROSECUTION ASKED

Churchill Belittles Attack on Monty

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill criticized a Labor member of parliament in the House of Commons today for suggesting Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery should be prosecuted under the Official Secrets Act.

George Wigg, a colonel in the army educational corps during the Second World War, said the field marshal had signed a declaration "on leaving the army" that he had not then in his possession or control certain documents. But he had retained such documents.

The prime minister said Wigg was not only ill-informed but ill-natured.

He added: "Field marshals are always in the army. I am surprised that an army schoolmaster didn't know that."

Montgomery sat in the gallery during this exchange.

Wigg gave notice last week that he would raise this matter in the House after Montgomery said he had received a telegram from the prime minister in 1945 about the stacking of Nazi arms.

Returning to the attack today, Wigg said it does not matter whether the field marshal has left the army or not.

"If he has left the army he is liable to prosecution under the Official Secrets Act. If he has not left the army, the conditions of the Official Secrets Act still apply and he can be prosecuted by court martial under sections of the Army Act."

Churchill said he thought it "rather unworthy" to make a suggestion that an officer of the field marshal's distinction should be considered for prosecution.

As the Earl Sees Us: Scot(Canada)land!!!

PRESTWICK, Scotland (CP)—The Earl of Weymouth and March said today he got the impression during a seven-week tour of Canada that the country is populated exclusively by Scots.

"They certainly seem to be at the top of everything," the 42-year-old guardian of the Scottish National Trust quipped.

Victoria Daily Times 31

Deficit on Foreign Trade Cut in 1954

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canada has run up a $330,000,000 deficit in its transactions in goods and services with other countries in the first nine months of 1954, the bureau of statistics said today.

The deficit compared with one of $388,000,000 in the same period last year.

During the first two quarters of this year, the country ran up deficits of $173,000,000 and $179,000,000, but in the third quarter there was a small surplus of $22,000,000.

The bureau said the figures indicated "some improvement" in the current account deficits of a year ago, with merchandise trade and services contributing about equally to the improvement.

The deficit in transactions with the United States has been reduced, and the surplus in trading with overseas countries other than the United Kingdom has been cut. But the surplus with the U.K. has increased.

The deficit of $330,000,000 was more than financed by the movement of long-term capital.

DEB said. About $434,000,000 came into the country in private long-term capital investment and official loan repayments, while the outflow to finance an increase in official holdings of gold and foreign exchange totaled $79,000,000.

The volume of both imports and exports has been lower than last year's, but Canada has improved its position by exporting relatively more and importing relatively less. Export prices have fallen, but import prices have been relatively stable or slightly higher.

REPORT CLAIMED UNFOUNDED

TOKYO (AP)—Reports here that all Canadian forces will be pulled out of Korea by early 1955 are "entirely unfounded", a Canadian embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said it was possible the report was based on word from Ottawa that about two-thirds of the Canadians now in Korea will be home for Christmas.

He said that leaves an infantry battalion, a field ambulance unit and administrative units in Korea.

IMMEDIATE BABY BONUS ASKED FOR IMMIGRANTS

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Canadian Welfare Council is studying two provisions of Canadian law which it thinks work a hardship on newly-arrived Canadians, it was announced today.

Children of immigrants are not now eligible for family allowances until they have lived in Canada for a year.

"Immediate receipt of family allowances would help make immigrants feel welcome in their new country and also ease the financial difficulties which are often particularly serious during the first year in Canada," chairman B. M. Alexander said.

Expenditures Top Revenues In Oak Bay

Deficit Looms For Municipality

Oak Bay may end up in the red this year, municipal finance chairman Patrick Birley announced this week. Delivering the annual report of the committee to ratepayers, Councillor Birley said: "It is not yet certain whether the municipality will end up on the right side of the ledger this year."

Revenue to date amounts to $1,115,000, but expenses are already at the $1,134,000 mark. Further revenue is still to come before the end of the fiscal year, but the amount to be received is unknown.

In the first 11 months of the year, Oak Bay has received $200,000 from the provincial government, $700,000 in property taxes, and $110,000 from water rates.

A high 97.74 per cent of the taxes levied was collected. Municipal debt in Oak Bay is only $1.5 million whereas the municipality, under government regulations, is entitled to a debt of more than $7 million.

Police Charge Witness Offered $14,500 Bribe

VANCOUVER (CP)—Earl John Wesley, 60-year-old Burnaby salvage dealer, today was charged with attempting to dissuade a person by bribery from giving evidence in a court case. Basis of the charge against Wesley is an alleged offer of a $14,500 cheque to a witness in a court case.

Tax Boost Unlikely in Esquimalt

Reeve Wurtele Optimistic In Election Rally Report

A $50,000 surplus in Esquimalt Municipality's 1954 budget was forecast by Reeve A. C. Wurtele at a public pre-election meeting Thursday night in Boilermakers Hall.

The meeting, in past years sponsored by council, provided about 45 citizens with a brief summary of the year's accomplishments by council and allowed candidates for council and police commission offices to present their platforms.

Reeve Wurtele explained council was not sponsoring the meeting this year because it wished to avoid leading the impression that it was "electioneering." Arrangements were made by Councillors James Bryant, G. K. Sammon and John E. Carey as individuals, all of whom are seeking re-election. Chairman was school trustee Dick Reeve.

The reeve went on to explain that Oct. 31 figures show this year's $513,000 budget to be well within expectations, and that by the end of this month should show a $50,000 surplus.

He also stated that local taxation next year, under assessment equalization, should not vary a great deal from 1954 amounts, although he said he could promise nothing definite.

He thought the federal government should provide Esquimalt with further assistance in lieu of taxes on its national defense property, even though acknowledgment of its aid in reconstructing Admirals Road was made.

Council, he said, can only promise value for the tax dollar, and can't hold the line when education demands a higher rate. He said he was unqualified to say whether "frills" were being added, but placed his confidence in the school board.

Although he would not propose it at present, amalgamation is inevitable, he said.

Cir. G. K. Sammon said he thought the federal government should provide Esquimalt with further assistance in lieu of taxes on its national defense property, even though acknowledgment of its aid in reconstructing Admirals Road was made.

Reeve Wurtele, on being asked his feeling on amalgamation, said: "If it's good for Esquimalt, then it's all right..." But the municipality could not afford a "piecemeal" amalgamation such as of police forces, he said. Regional planning is good, he felt, and suggested it before amalgamation.

Speaking as a 30-year resident of Esquimalt, Benjamin Caley said it was time Ottawa made a greater financial contribution. He also saw the benefit of amalgamation, but thought it was not feasible at present.

He said planning in a municipality should be both local and regional, for with only one the result was a "lopsidedness."

George Argyle, police commission candidate, said no new ideas came out of the commission or the fire department, unlike suggestions from other departments. The proper place for the commission, he felt, is in council, where all new ideas originate.

Frank Mitchell, second candidate for the commission, placed his faith in the police being the friends of youth in the community, and if elected would see that police "give direction, not directives."

Chairman Reeve told the gathering the Macaulay four-room school addition would be ready for next September if the plebiscite passed, and would have the effect of giving the municipality a junior high school.

He explained that the department of national defense pays five-eighths of the cost of educating 165 children from defense property in Esquimalt, and that this was a voluntary contribution.

FINE WOOD
Black walnut trees, producing wood valued for furniture manufacture, grow in southern Ontario.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

KELOWNA VOTE FAVORS WATER FLUORIDATION

The City of Kelowna, in the Okanagan district, was the first in B.C. to authorize fluoridation of its water supply. A referendum was passed by a small margin in Thursday's civic vote.

The village of Westview turned down a fluoridation referendum, 381-238.

Slocan City in B.C.'s interior Thursday elected the first Japanese-Canadian to hold municipal office in this province, according to Municipal Affairs Department authorities.

H. Matubayashi was one of three elected to aldermanic seats on the Slocan city council. Two white candidates were defeated.

Flood Waters Swamp 4,500 Irish Farms

5,000 Homeless as Waters Recede
In Dublin; 7 French Trawlers Lost

BREST, France (AP)—Port officials said today six French trawlers carrying 59 men and not reported in more than two weeks must be considered lost. Another trawler with five aboard missing since Sunday was feared lost in Atlantic storms.

DUBLIN, Ireland (UP)—The River Shannon flooded 4,500 farms in the Midlands of Ireland today, and the government said the floods had reached the critical stage there.

Floodwaters were receding in Dublin, which suffered one of its greatest disasters Thursday, but authorities said 5,000 persons still were homeless. The water reached depths of five and six feet in the city.

Heavy rains which brought the rivers Liffey and Tolka to new levels in Dublin ended at nightfall, but more rain, sleet and snow were predicted today.

The River Shannon was still rising, however, and government authorities reported 4,500 farms flooded in the area south of Lough Ree and "numerous" houses swept away.

Telephone lines to the stricken area were out and the government gave Gen. Collins Powell, commanding officer of the Western Command, a "free hand" to organize relief.

VANCOUVER'S CRIME FIGHT

Police to Lay Charges In 3 Bank Robberies

Four Men Under Arrest

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Charges in connection with three of eight bank hold-ups which netted gunmen $64,000 in a reign of terror will be laid against four men, police said today.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four men are under arrest today in what police say is the first major break in the crime wave plaguing Canada's third-largest city.

One of the men was arrested in Los Angeles, where, detectives said, he admitted robbing a Bank of Nova Scotia branch here of $3,400, Nov. 8.

The other three were picked up Thursday on city streets and in a downtown hotel room. With them police seized $2,000 in cash.

Arrested in the United States for carrying a gun was Bruce Teetzel, a Canadian. He has lived in the United States for some years.

Police there said he admitted the Bank of Nova Scotia robbery in Vancouver, one of eight bank robberies to take place here in a month.

"I don't think there is much doubt this is our man," said Chief Walter Mulligan. "He has quoted almost verbatim the wording of the note handed to the teller in the holdup."

The note said: "All your bills. Act normal, sound no alarm. Fast now."

MADE 4 PER CENT

Teetzel said he added to his loot by moving to Detroit where he changed the Canadian money into U.S. funds and profited by 4 cents on the dollar.

A warrant is being prepared for him here, and, police chief Walter Mulligan said, a detective will go to Los Angeles to bring him back.

Two of the others arrested, both 39, were suspected in the Dec. 3 holdup of a Royal Bank of Canada branch in outlying Park Royal. Two gunmen in that holdup swept up $7,500, called "Merry Christmas," and made their getaway.

Police said one of the two picked up was a truck driver, the other a tractor operator.

FOUND IN LINE-UP

The fourth man was picked up by uniformed constables who recognized him from a field-up order. He was identified in a line-up in connection with the Dec. 1 holdup of the downtown branch of the Bank of Montreal in which a lone bandit netted $1,500.

Chief Mulligan, under heavy criticism during the robbery wave, said no charges would be laid for 24 hours.

"This didn't all happen overnight," he said of the arrests. "It is the result of good, patient detective work."

He said he learned from telephone conversations with Los Angeles police that Teetzel said he used part of the money to buy a revolver in Detroit and then travelled to Arizona and wound up in Los Angeles broke. Teetzel waived extradition.

Arrested on Charge Of Robbery, Violence

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mike Kramer, 24, was arrested here Friday on a charge of robbery with violence. Police said the charge was laid in connection with robbing Lloyd E. Ward, a soldier stationed at Jericho barracks, of $20 here Nov. 16.

Thirty-one-year-old Ald. Robert Macmillan, hands held high, topped the poll and was re-elected for another two-year term by city voters Thursday. Picture was taken just after final result was posted at election counting house Thursday night. Other successful

Lampert's Hotel Suite 'Explained'

TORONTO (CP)—The Royal York Hotel suite in which former Mayor Allan Lampert entertained visitors to Toronto, was supplied for his use by the hotel management, Mr. Lampert said today.

George Weale, city clerk, confirmed the statement.

The allegation that "some private party paid for a suite in the Royal York just for my use, is absolutely without foundation," Mr. Lampert said.

Mayor-elect Nathan Phillips said today Mr. Lampert should consider resigning as Toronto transit commissioner if suggestions of over-spending in connection with the suite are borne out.

An examination of the civic accounts by three Toronto reporters Thursday night showed the city paid $47,613 for parties, services and official receptions during the last 2½ years.

The answer is that it was maintained by me at no cost to the city whatever... and it's nobody's business, anyway.

Mr. Lampert said that at no time did he entertain at the city's expense in someone else's suite.

Mr. Lampert said the scandal of Suite 1735 will create a strong argument in favor of holding the Grey Cup game in the West next year.

"It will be held in Vancouver next year, where hospitality is never restrained," Mr. Lampert said.

Toronto Girl Escapes Strangler

TORONTO (CP)—Police are investigating the possibility the man who dragged a 17-year-old girl into a laneway Thursday night is the person blamed for strangling two women this fall.

Oary Shlahetko told police a man grabbed her by the throat and took her into the laneway. Her assailant was frightened off when a passer-by shouted.

France Moves Closer To Arms Ratification

Foreign Affairs Committee Backs German Arms Plan; Molotov Lauds Might of Red Arms

PARIS (UP)—The powerful foreign affairs committee of the National Assembly, in a halting step towards final ratification of the Western European Union, today approved the Paris accords rearming Germany by a single vote.

It developed later that an accident provided the margin of victory. One deputy whose proxy vote was cast in favor of abstained later he would have abstained had he been present.

It was the closest shave yet for the agreement on rearming Germany but politicians still predicted it would pass the whole assembly before Christmas.

Five followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle plumped their votes solidly against it in the committee.

(In Bonn, Germany, the West German upper house gave first reading approval to the agreement on Paris rearmament and sovereignty but deferred a vote on the disputed Saar agreement. The vote was 26 to 9 on the two agreements.)

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today "there is no force in the world" strong enough to stop the march of communism.

"If need be, the Soviet Union will demonstrate its might and the righteousness of our cause," he said in a speech broadcast by Moscow radio.

Molotov's fiery words were delivered at a rally in Moscow's Hall of Columns celebrating the 10th anniversary of the French-Soviet friendship treaty.

Three brain-teasers STUMP CROSSWORDERS

With no winner this week the Times' Crossword Puzzle is building up into a sizeable award as Christmas approaches. Next week's total award will be $100.

Three brain-teasers were responsible for most of the failures in Puzzle No. 89, complete answer to which appears on Page 29 of today's Times.

"Nine" was the correct answer to the clue, "You'd be surprised if a cigarette package a tobaccoist handed you had — in it." Most entries gave the answer as "none."

"Brainy" and "cuddle" were answers that tripped most other entrants, commonest errors being "brawny" and "coddle."

UNEMPLOYMENT BRIEF

Labor Demands
Works Program

Representatives of the 55,000-member B.C. Trade Union Congress today laid before the cabinet a five-point program to combat unemployment, and demanded public ownership of the B.C. Electric.

A joint 12-man TUC-AFL delegation carried the legislative proposals to the cabinet chamber, led by TUC Pres. James Barton, and Victor Midgley, city international representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

The recommendations aimed at curbing unemployment were:

1. Initiation of a sweeping public works program, including construction of schools, roads, hospitals, low-rent housing, and a natural gas pipeline.
2. Enactment of legislation to prohibit workers from holding more than one full-time job; a new minimum wage scale based on trade union rates recognized by industry, and curtailment of overtime except under extreme emergency.
3. Reduction of hours of work to 40 hours a week and 8 hours a day, through changes in the Hours of Work Act.
4. Encouragement to the Police seized $3,000 in Haddon's hotel room, and are holding a second suspect.

A third man arrested Thursday is being held in connection with the $1,500 hold-up of the Bank of Montreal branch on Granville Street.

(Meanwhile, British United Press reported from Vancouver bank theft charges are pending against three other men.)

RED-NOSED SAINT NICK RED-FACED

Santa Scrams Homeward
After Night in City Pokey

BY PETE LOUDON

A horrible mistake happened in Victoria Thursday night, kiddies—Santa got tossed in jail.

Police got the old fellow mixed up with another man with a beard, one Albert S. Falk.

Mr. Falk, 63, painter, decorator and philosopher sometimes collects money "to further world peace planning."

Before you can beg money from people to keep you eating while you plan for world peace you have to have a license—like NATO or UN.

It's one of those hard-to-understand grown-ups' laws. Anyhow, the police thought the man they had was Mr. Falk. But when reporters looked through the bars where Mr. Falk was supposed to be, there was Santa Claus.

He had a long silky beard, a twinkle in his eye, a red toque with a long tassel which bounced off his cherry-red nose. He had a red shirt and red trousers, too. Oh, it was Santa all right.

The Times right away tried to hail Santa out, but the police still thought he was Mr. Falk, and he had to appear in court.

The charge was vagrancy.

But Magistrate Henry Hall wasn't fooled a minute.

"Course, to keep the police happy, he called Santa 'Mr. Falk.' He looked at the court room calendar and he saw there are only 15 days to Christmas and he knew Santa didn't have much time.

So with a deep stern voice, the magistrate said, "I'll think this over until tomorrow, meantime you can go free." What he meant was that Santa had better leave town today.

So Santa got his toque and his other belongings (and a mysterious big bag he had checked downtown), and he headed for the ticket office.

And a little while later, by listening hard, all those people who believe in Santa heard some far-away sleigh bells.

And a voice that sounded like Mr. Falk's (but really wasn't), was faintly heard saying, "Merry Christmas to all... And to all a good night."

45-5 Vote
Overrides
Red Bloc

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—By an overwhelming vote, the UN General Assembly today condemned Red China for jailing 11 American fliers as spies.

The assembly called upon Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to seek their release and report back by Dec. 31.

The vote was 45 to 5, with six abstaining.

Only the Soviet bloc opposed the 16-nation resolution which chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said would put the moral force of the UN behind demands that the fliers be freed.

India, Yemen, Burma, Indonesia, Yugoslavia and Afghanistan abstained although they too expressed sympathy with fliers.

Russia insisted until the last that the fliers were U.S. spies, that they were convicted legally and that their case was outside the legal competence of the UN.

CPR Bridge Guard
Killed by Train

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (CP)—Cecil M. Long, 73, was killed shortly after midnight today when his badly mutilated body was found on the railway tracks three miles east of this Kootenay boundary city.

The victim, employed as a guard on a CPR bridge, apparently slipped under the middle section of a passing freight train seconds after he waved to the engineer.

QUEEN MARY DAMAGED
BY STORM

CHERBOURG, France (AP)—The liner Queen Mary reached this French harbor today, battered by a tempest which swept the Atlantic Ocean and the English Channel during its crossing from New York.

A five-year-old child, Karl Gartner, was injured during the trip and was taken to a Cherbourg clinic. Other passengers were shaken up.

Water flooded the first-class dining room, causing heavy damage.
